Mr. Abbott, who is accompanied by Lee H. Hiller of Cleveland, chief engineer of the American Institute of Steel Construction, is in Los Angeles at the invitation of the southern division of the California branch of the institute to conduct a series of meetings in Los Angeles, whose aim is to obtain the views of the steel industry and the general public on the advancement in construction. The first conference of this kind will take place today, when Hiller addresses a closed meeting of the manufacturing committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a noonday luncheon.

WORLD-WIDE TOPICS WILL BE DEBATED

International Relations Institute Convenes Here for September Session

To discuss international problems with a view to clarifying the atmosphere on the question of the foreign policy of the United States in world affairs, the Institute of International Relations, a Pacific Coast organization, will hold its first annual meeting in Los Angeles in September, it was announced last night at the Biltmore.

Realization of the need for cooperative endeavor among the nations of the Pacific basin territory prompted the organization of the institute which will meet here annually, according to Frank A. Vanderlip, financier and internationalist, who presided.

The institute will prove a forum for the mobilization of world policies and views, in the opinion of indorsers of the organization, stated Dr. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, who outlined the purposes of the new organization to representatives of twenty-six foreign countries present for the occasion.

The institute program will cover a period of probably three weeks and will include lectures, conferences, round tables and discussions on all problems affecting the needs of the Pacific basin, he said.

Other speakers were Chester Rowell, regent of the University of California; Dr. Max Mason, president of the University of Chicago, and Lyman T. Gage, Secretary of the Treasury in the McKinley administration.

MASONS TO HEAR PIONEER

James T. Fitzgerald, pioneer business man of Los Angeles, will address the Masonic Club of Los Angeles at its luncheon tomorrow. Mr. Fitzgerald will speak on "Business Conditions, Past and Present." The Zachary Brothers' Trio will supply the vocal music and the Masonic Club Orchestra will play.

Whereat Mr. Criswell thundered: "Since when has Jefferson moved from my ward to yours?"

Councilman Randall, who represents the San Fernando Valley, thrust in an ear, and they all turned on him. President Workman banged his gavel and thanked the students for their visit, and they filed out, vastly impressed by district representation.

District Attorney Back from Tour of East

Sheds Little Light on Murder Mystery

KEYES BACK IN SPHINX ROLE

District Attorney Sheds no Further Light on Taylor Case as He Returns from East With Aide

Dist.-Atty. Keyes and Harold L. Davis, his chief homicide deputy, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday afternoon, after an extended trip through eastern cities and considerable publicity over the reported solution of the William Desmond Taylor murder case.

A small army of newspaper reporters and photographers met the two officials on their arrival at the Central Station. There was a clicking of cameras and some milling around, but nothing new was added to the facts already known regarding the investigation. Mr. Keyes, after some enthusiastic comments regarding data gathered by him in the East on office procedure, handed out copies of a statement printed in yesterday morning's edition of The Times, and made by Mr. Keyes to The Times' staff representatives on the train.

Chief Deputy Fitts and Chief of Detectives Cohn, who joined their chief in Las Vegas, Nev., and Riverside, were in the party. Mrs. Keyes and Mrs. Davis, as well as the Davis baby, greeted the officials at the station.

EXPECT NOTHING NEW

Aside from the contemplated conference with the grand jury, probably today, in which Mr. Keyes plans to meet the new members of the inquisitorial body and to ask their co-operation in the conduct of the county's investigation matters, no new developments in the Taylor case are expected, Mr. Keyes and his assistants declared. The murder investigation activity, if any, in the next few months will be directed toward reassembling and co-ordinating material at hand, Mr. Keyes and Mr. Davis said.

A study of the transcript of the statement made to them in New York by Mary Miles Minter, Taylor's former sweetheart, will be made by Mr. Keyes and Mr. Davis. They also plan to check over the known facts in the murder case to see how much credence is to be placed in the story of a former convict, given them in a New York State city, during their eastern visit. This story is a reputed "second-handed" confession of a man who says that while he was serving a term in an eastern prison a fellow convict told him that he

DIRECTORY WILL HONOR HOUSEWIFE

City Book Being Compiled for 1927 to Put Woman on Same Footing as Husband

Her Royal Highness, the Los Angeles housewife, at last is coming into her own from the place of total oblivion to which she has been shunted for lo these many years, and the year 1927 will find her on a parity with her lawful spouse, at least as far as the 1927 Los Angeles City Directory is concerned.

And her forthcoming elevation to directorial recognition as an integral part of the Los Angeles family is but one of the several important features announced for inclusion in the new directory by the Western Directory Company, which organization is already at work on the new book which will be distributed next year.

The 1927 Los Angeles City Director, according to an announcement yesterday by its publishers, will deviate from the style of directories of the past in that the wife's name will be included in the listings, together with the place of employment of each husband or head of the family, and a householder's guide will be introduced. This latter addition will be of intense value to each subscriber to the directory as it lists by street and house-number each resident of the city.

In the past the women of the family have been more or less ignored in the compilation of the Los Angeles directories. Housewives have been accorded no recognition unless the actual head of the family although single working girls usually living away from home, have been included in the listings.

The new directory will be published entirely in Los Angeles and work has already been started toward its compilation. The publishers declare it will be the most complete and valuable directory distributed in Los Angeles in recent years.

NEW BOND ISSUE FORECAST

Engineer Reagan Asked for Estimate on Cost of Completing Flood Control Program

The forerunner of another county flood control bond issue appeared at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday when Supervisor Wright introduced a resolution calling on Chief Flood Control Engineer Reagan for an estimate of what it will cost to complete the county's full flood control program.

Outside of one large item the estimate is to be on work outside of the projects provided for under the $35,000,000 flood-control bond issue voted two years ago, according to Mr. Wright. The big item that will come under the new estimate is said to be one for $7,000,000 or more for the Big Tujunga dam and reservoir.

Upon request of San Fernando Valley interests the flood-control department has revised its original plans for the construction of the Big Tujunga dam, moving it back into the canyon some distance and making the dam larger. This will boost its cost, it was roughly estimated, from the original $1,600,000, as provided for in the original bond issue, to about $8,500,000 or $9,000,000.

Most of the other work to be figured on in the new estimate also includes work for the benefit of the San Fernando Valley country, it was said. These are smaller flood-control measures. Another item is reported to be one of about $250,000 for rip-rap work along the river back of Griffith Park.

BALCH NAMED HEAD OF BOWL

Mrs. Carter's Resignation Accepted by Board

Resolution Praises Her Tireless Energy

Intention Announced to Continue Concerts

Directors of the Hollywood Bowl Association last night received and accepted the written resignation of Mrs. J. J. Carter as president and director and elected A. C. Balch, first vice-president, to the presidency. No successor to Mr. Balch as vice-president was moved.

The meeting was held in the office of C. E. Toberman at 6763 Hollywood Boulevard. Directors in attendance were M. T. Palmer, T. Percival Gerson, A. J. Berheyan, and Mr. Balch.

The directors announced their intention of making the Hollywood Bowl a great community asset and continuing the summer concerts on "the same lofty plane of beauty and idealism." In accepting Mrs. Carter's resignation the board voted the following resolution:

PRAISES MRS. CARTER

"Resolved, that this board thereby records its sincere appreciation of and profound gratitude for the tireless energy and rare genius Mrs. Carter has brought to bear upon the Hollywood Bowl summer concerts and for the consummate skill and ability that she has reflected in making them successful, and democratizing symphonic music in Southern California."

The meeting was private and no statement was made regarding the friction between the directors and Mrs. Carter to which she assigned her resignation. Mrs. Carter, founder of the Bowl concerts and internationally known as a patroness of the arts, made public announcement of her resignation last Wednesday.

Mrs. Carter, who had worked with the Bowl Association for four years, then declared:

"It is no longer possible for me and the present board of directors to work in harmony. We live in different worlds. We speak different languages. It has always been a conflict of ideas, but in the beginning my enthusiasm and energy were enough to carry me over everything. But now, after four years of absolute devotion and ceaseless work, I am too tired to battle longer.

KILLED HER SPIRIT

"The utter lack of sympathetic understanding and the ever-present antagonism has killed my spirit."

Mrs. Carter then said she intended to leave shortly for Minneapolis to help formulate plans for a summer season. Friday night, in an address at the first spring concert of the Hollywood Community Orchestra at the Hollywood Woman's Club, she said she has no intention of deserting the Bowl but expects to return next year, when she hopes she will have a new board of directors. She refused to reconsider her resignation.

He will bring with him several musicians of standing. A flying squadron of fifty men is being organized to pay a visit to the Watts Kiwanis Club. The Los Angeles club will meet Wednesday noon at the Biltmore.

WHILE the motion-picture company in which they are working paused for half an hour, Elmer E. Odell and Valetta G. Smith, midgets, were married yesterday on the set at the F.B.O. studio in Hollywood.

The marriage was the culmination of a romance which started when the two met at the studio, where they are appearing in the cast of a circus picture. Both bride and bridegroom are known on the vaudeville stage and in the films.

Ralph Ince, director of the picture and also a member of the cast, was best man, and Viola Dana Flynn was bridesmaid. The company stood by and threw rice when Judge Baird completed the ceremony. Sheriff Traeger and Undersheriff Biscailus were guests.

On the marriage license, Odell, who is thirty-six inches tall and known as Prince Elmer on the stage, gave his age as 27 years, while his bride, who is thirty-eight inches tall, gave hers as 28. This is the first marriage for each.

Other guests at the wedding were Joseph P. Kennedy, owner of F.B.O.; Vice-President J. I. Schnitzer, Vice-President Edwin C. King, A. A. Schmidt and other studio executives who are gathered for the F.B.O. convention soon to take place here.

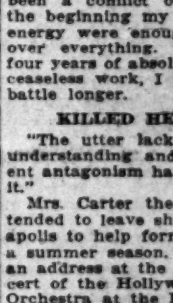
BUDD DOBLE, TURFMAN, DIES

Pilot of Goldsmith Maid and Nancy Hanks to World Fame Succumbs to Apoplexy Here

Budd Doble, pioneer turfman of the days when horsemen rode their trotters and pacers, 85 years of age, passed away last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph F. Mullender of Puenta, where he had lived during the past seven years.

The veteran raceman, widely knwn as the epitome of clean sportsmanship, was seized with a heart attack on the 12th inst. From this he appeared to recover, but Saturday last suffered a stroke of apoplexy from which he never regained consciousness.



BUDD DOBLE

It was in the sixties that Budd Doble made his first successful bid for fame in the harness-racing world. Beginning with a world's record-breaking performance in 1867, he was destined to better his achievement on nine succeeding occasions. He was astride Dexter, which turned a mile in the new time of 2m. 19c. During the same season he was again up on Dexter to better the mark by 1 3-4s.

Then Goldsmith Maid had her day. Doble piloted her to the new world record of 2m. 17s. in 1871, clipped a quarter of a second from the mark the following year and brought her around the oval for an even 2m. 16s. two years later. Before the season of 1874 closed, however, he had piloted Goldsmith to three additional world marks, going the mile route in 2m. 15 1-2s., 2m. 14 3-4s. and 2m. 14s. Records show that Doble won no less than $360,000 in purses with the fleet Goldsmith Maid.

NANCY HANKS' RECORDS

It remained for Nancy Hanks to shatter all previous trotting records. In 1892, Doble drove her—the new mode of racing had come into being in the interim—to the hitherto unheard-of record of 2m. 05 1-4s. Skeptical railbirds said it was a mistake or a fluke, but under conditions identical with the earlier performance, Doble brought Nancy Hanks under the wire in 2m. 4s.

Mr. Doble was born in Bristol, Pa. He leaves his daughter, Mrs. Mullender. To show their esteem for him, citizens of Puente tendered a large banquet in his honor scarcely a year ago. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

YOUTH ADMITS SHOOTING GIRL

Act Declared Committed to Cover Up Attack

Victim's Plea for Life Halts Killing by Student

Police May Sift Date Book in Boy's Possession

The amazing confession of a 20-year-old high-school boy that, after attacking a 15-year-old girl, he shot her cold - bloodedly and attempted kill her to hide the first crime, was obtained yesterday by Capt. William Bright, head of the homicide bureau at the Sheriff's office, it was announced.

EDWARD HALL

The boy, who is said to have confessed, is Edward Hall of 1415 North Vine street, Hollywood. The girl in the case is Velma Stanton, a ward of Attorney Sylas S. Meyer, living at 6033 Salem Place, Hollywood.

SHOT IN NECK

The girl was found near Montebello early yesterday morning. She was bleeding from a gunshot wound, the bullet having entered the back of her neck, passed through her cheek and lodged in her wrist. She was first taken to the Garden Hospital in Belvedere Gardens and later to the General Hospital, where it is expected she will recover.

After talking to the girl, Deputy Sheriffs Stensland and Blaisdel hurried to Hollywood and arrested young Hall, who, they say, lives with his mother, employed as a motion-picture extra, at the Vine-street address.

The revolver used in the shooting was recovered last night, Deputy Sheriff Stensland reported.

It was turned over to its owner at 7 a.m. yesterday by young Hall wit hthe remark, "That gun shot a girl last night," Stensland said he was told.

The owner of the revolver is Louis Dormont, another tenant of 1415 North Vine street. Dormont, according to Stensland, said he thought the youth was joking when he made the remark about the gun having been used to shoot a girl.

The revolver, it was stated, had disappeared about two weeks ago. Several days ago, it was reported, young Hall told Dormont he knew who had the gun and that he would get it back for him.

After questioning for more than two hours, Capt. Bright obtained a written confession from the boy, and a note book in which the youth had the names, addresses and telephone numbers of more than fifty girls that he said were high school girls he had "taken out."

According to the boy's confession, he had known the Stanton girl for some time; knew that she had been held as a delinquent before and that another man now is held in jail charged with a statutory offense against her.

ADMITS ATTACK

He said she told him she wanted to run away and that he agreed, and with $3.30 between them they planned to leave the State. By devious methods they reached Belvedere Gardens, where Hall admitted he attacked the girl, and finally went to the Pico ball park in East Montebello, where they stayed during the night.

Fear that the girl would tell of his actions toward her, Hall declared, led him to shoot her about 5 o'clock in the morning.

"I was afraid she'd squeal, so I shot her," he admitted. "I was sitting on the grand stand and she was a few feet away trying to sleep."

"Why didn't you finish her when you saw the first shot didn't kill her?" Capt. Bright asked.

"I guess I lost my nerve," replied the youth.

However, after more questioning, Hall admitted that the girl begged for her life, declaring she wouldn't tell who shot her if he wouldn't kill her.

SHIELDS YOUTH

About half an hour after he fired the shot, Hall assisted the girl to the home of John Nobie, a rancher living a short distance away, and fled, leaving the girl. At first the injured girl tried to shield Hall, telling the officers three different stories, but Deputies Stensland and Blaisdel obtained enough information on which to locate Hall yesterday afternoon.

Young Hall admitted to the officers that he has been arrested a number of times before and is now on parole from the State reformatory at Ione, where he spent a year after being convicted of stealing automobile accessories. He stoutly maintained, however, that the gun is not his, but that it was stolen from a friend; that he recovered it and returned it to its rightful owner yesterday before he was arrested.

Capt. Bright declared Hall is known to have associated with a gang of questionable characters in Hollywood, and that an investigation will be launched to learn of their activities among juvenile girls in Hollywood. The girls named in Hall's book may be questioned, it is understood. The Stanton girl also attended a Hollywood Junior High School.

SHOOTING STORIES CONFLICT

Widow of Victim and Gun Wielder

Mrs. H. L. Moffitt and C. R. Wood

FOLLOWING conflicting stories by Mrs. Carrie Wood, whose husband, C. R. Wood of Downey, shot and killed his brother-in-law, Herbert L. Moffitt, Saturday night, and Mrs. Moffitt, widow of the dead man, Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's office yesterday ordered Mrs. Moffitt and Wood held pending the findings of a Coroner's jury. The inquest into the death of Moffitt, who was a son of Norwalk School Superintendent Moffitt, will be held tomorrow in Miller's undertaking parlors in Downey.

Questioned by Capt. Bright and Deputy Sheriffs Hanby and Hunter, Mrs. Wood declared yesterday that Moffitt and his wife had quarreled because the former insisted on going to a dance with "another woman." This story was denied by Mrs. Moffitt, who insisted her trouble with her husband, which indirectly led to the shooting, was the outgrowth of his heavy drinking.

Wood declared he shot Moffitt when the latter broke into his home, and rushed at Mrs. Moffitt and Mrs. Wood with a knife shouting that he was going to "clean up on the whole bunch of them."

STEPHENS MAY SEEK HIGH POST

City Attorney Admits He Has Been Urged to Run for Governorship

The possibility that he may become a candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket was admitted last night by City Attorney Stephens. The admission was forthcoming following the circulation of rumors that Stephens had been approached by Democratic leaders with the object in view of presenting his name at the State Democratic convention to be held in Santa Cruz on May 21, next.

"Yes, I have been approached on the matter," said the City Attorney, "but as yet the matter has hardly advanced beyond the rumor stage. I haven't given the matter much serious consideration yet, although I appreciate the honor tendered me. Between now and May 21 I will make a decision."

Stephens twice had been elected City Attorney of Los Angeles without opposition, and Democratic leaders in this section are said to be of the firm belief that his record will make the foundation for a spirited campaign in his favor.

STUNT MAN HAS EXTRA THRILLS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, March 29.—Swaying and tossing half an hour beneath the bucking body of an airplane, part of that time supported only by the grip of his teeth on a leather strap, was the perilous experience here today of Albert L. Warrender, air-circus stunt man. Warrender's strange predicament was the result of his inability to climb back into the plane and the inability of his pilot to find a place to drop him in safety.

Piloted by Jimmy Crossan, owner of the Venice Flying Field on Leona Boulevard, Warrender and his young woman partner, Babe Kalishek, were practicing stunts for a proposed circuit tour of the West. While Miss Kalishek performed on the wings of the plane, Warrender hung by his teeth from a strap below the machine. When the time of his stunt was up, he found himself too weak to climb back to the cockpit of the plane.

Crossan lowered a rope to the swaying performer, and Warrender succeeded in getting it tied beneath his arms. For half an hour Crossan flew above Venice seeking some place to land the man swinging below the speeding plane, even flying over the ocean and shouting vainly to Warrender to drop.

The wild air ride finally ended when Crossan, seeing an automobile traveling along the Speedway toward Pasiiades Del Rey, flew low as near the machine and the highway as he dared, cut the rope and let Warrender fall in the soft sand. Paul Weaver, driver of the automobile, found Warrender dazed but otherwise unhurt.

Though she is only 14 years of age, Josie Nocita of Sioux City, Iowa, is being sued for divorce. She was married only nine days when her husband left her and sued for his freedom.

INTEREST IN CITY ISSUES COMMENDED

Commercial Board Head Says Dinner Reservations Attest Popular Concern

The rapidly increasing interest of the people of Los Angeles in the ten municipal issues to come before the voters at the April 30 special city election was yesterday praised by President Jackson of the Commercial Board. The large number of reservations being received for the Commercial Board's civic dinner to be held tomorrow evening at the Elite, 633 South Flower street, together with the response being received to the board's poll of the other civic organizations to obtain their views on the special propositions, was most gratifying, he said.

"On April 30," said President Jackson, "the public will vote on propositions involving the expenditure of millions of dollars. It is the duty of every citizen of Los Angeles to inform himself as to these propositions, to register and vote. The Commercial Board is holding this civic dinner to do its share in informing the people as to the propositions to be voted on at the coming election."

The speakers at tomorrow's evening dinner include Orra E. Monnette, who will discuss "The Business Man's Civic Responsibility;" Mayor Cryer will tell of the city's financial situation of the city government; the Wilshire business zoning Propositions Nos. 3 and 4 on the April 30 ballot, will be debated by A. J. Hill and W. H. Daum; Burt A. Heinly of the Greater Harbor Committee of 200 will discuss Propositions 5 and 6, the port-development questions on the ballot; Albert C. Martin, one of the architects of the new $5,000,000 City Hall, will set forth the facts on Proposition 7, authorizing the twenty-eight-story City Hall, and Propositions 8 (union depot) and 9 (Plaza site) will be debated by City Attorney Stephens and Vice-President Pontius of the Pacific Electric.

Music will be furnished at the dinner by the Los Angeles Railway band.

LINK WITH OLD THEFT RECALLED

Coin Earned Forty Years Ago from Man Arrested Recently in Horse Case

Some forty years or more ago, A. E. Barnes of 4736 Elmwood avenue, then a youth of 16, earned a worn, but still serviceable, half-dollar, which he used in having as good a time as could be bought for 50 cents in those days.

Both the half-dollar and the good time which it bought were almost forgotten by the boy as he grew into manhood. But Sunday they were recalled for him by a story in The Times telling of the arrest at Asbury Park, N. J., of a physician and explorer, 93 years of age, on a horse-stealing charge forty years old.

It was the man under arrest, Dr. Edwin P. Osbaldeston, who gave him the 50 cents, Mr. Barnes recalled, for taking care of the horse which the 93-year-old physician is charged with having stolen forty years back. Mr. Barnes explained that the physician and another man came to his father's home at Binghampton, N. Y., with the horse and remained there for some time. A day or so after their departure, he said, Sheriff Black came to their home and informed them that the horse had been stolen and that Edward Turner, who is supposed to be the present Dr. Osbaldeston, had escaped from jail after his arrest.

He was the only man ever to get away from Black, Mr. Barnes said, and the Sheriff vowed that he would catch the fugitive if it took the rest of his life. He made good his promise at the age of 91, while acting as a deputy sheriff, according to Mr. Barnes.

QUIZ STARTS IN ASSERTED BRIBE CASE

Dr. Parrish to Investigate Reported Irregularity by Agent in Rat-Proofing

Dr. George Parrish, health officer, will start today an investigation of the asserted acceptance of bribes by Leo Blum, inspector employed by the Federal government, who is said to have received a payment of money for permitting defective construction work in a rat-proofing job at 2936 Brooklyn avenue.

His version of the transaction as told to police authorities upon his arrest last night, involves others, it is said. After he was taken into custody by Detective Lieutenant Hoy, Blum was booked at Central Police Station on suspicion of extortion. He is charged with accepting $50 in marked money from T. E. Foley and W. O. Munson of the Grand Tex Stone Company, for supposedly approving work on the rat-proofing job at the Brooklyn-avenue location.

Detective Lieutenant Hoy declared the money was paid over in the presence of himself and Officers Hogan and Murphine. The building in question is a restaurant owned by Mrs. Anna Todd. According to the arresting officers, Blum also agreed to obtain a contract for Foley and Munson for similar work on a near-by drug store for an additional $100. Today's investigation is expected to disclose whether there are other evidences of supposed extortion.

NATAL DAY PAGEANT UP AT MEETING

Civic and Patriotic Bodies Consider Plans for Fourth of July Feature Event

Suggestion that the July 4 pageant which is to be staged in the Coliseum be conducted on Monday, July 5, was made at the meeting last night of representatives of local patriotic, civic and fraternal organizations and spokesmen of the city, county, State and national governments. The meeting, conducted at the Hollywood Masonic Temple, was presided over by Edwards Davis.

That the date be advanced one day was the suggestion of the 233 Club. Several ideas presented by Frank Lloyd, the motion-picture director, were well received.

At the conclusion of the discussion, during which ideas were exchanged and plans set afoot, a special pageant committee was appointed with instructions to make a study of various types of pageants suitable for the occasion.

A future meeting will be called within the next two or three weeks, it was announced by Mr. Davis.

KEYES RETURNS FROM JOURNEY

and another man had killed Taylor. The man is said to be a narcotic peddler.

His motive was described as an old grudge against Taylor, grown from a trifling episode years ago. The description of the self-asserted murderer, as given by the convict, is said to answer in a general way the man seen leaving the Taylor home immediately after the shooting in February, 1922.

In his statement to The Times Sunday, Mr. Keyes said he and Mr. Davis went east primarily to study the organization of district attorneys' offices in the larger eastern cities and to compile some data to assist in the proposed revision of the California Penal Code and procedure. The trip also furnished an opportunity to round into shape the known facts in the Taylor murder case and to obtain necessary missing links that would make it possible to complete the case in the event the desired information could be obtained. Satisfactory progress was made in this direction, Mr. Keyes said, but nothing so far discovered in the case warrants the published statements that the Taylor case is solved, and no such statement ever was made by him or Mr. Davis, Mr. Keyes said.

THE PLEASANT PILGRIM

Dist.-Atty. Keyes's remarks to the Finance Committee: "Thanks for the buggy ride."

OVER AGAIN

History repeats itself—being in that respect very much like the average political orator.

WOMEN DO THE WORK

They say that 35 per cent of the women of New York are wage-earners and that doesn't include the gold-diggers, either.

STILL RUNNING

The League of Nations may be slightly bent, but it did not break and the activities of its minor divisions will continue unabated. There is a lot of power in its machinery and this will still be used in constructive work.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Although the German railroads are not doing much in the way of expansion, there are now sixty different plants in Germany where railway cars or other rolling stock are made. The Germans are paying more attention to industrial than to military preparedness and are wise.

THE NEW SOUTH

A southern Democrat asserts that his party is now dry, but he doesn't mean that it is thirsty. Anyhow, it is hungry. If the southerners insist that the Democrats are now prohibitionists they must be prepared to strike Al Smith and Tammany from their visiting lists. The southerners have ever given blunt defiance to the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution and may, therefore, be disinclined to hallow the Eighteenth.

SWEETNESS AND LIGHT

A Frenchman is producing a new dress material which is woven from the fluffiest of ostrich plumes. These are plucked from the quills, treated by a special process and then woven into a wonderful cloth. According to a trade report the finished product is said to be even lighter than down, yet is still quite durable and capable of gathering effects in colors and patterns that are impossible to obtain in many materials now in use.

THE YOUNG TURKS

Turkish girls bob their hair, play tennis and hockey and wear sport skirts. They are learning the free manners of American maids and like the new life mighty well. Instead of hiding behind a veil until they are old enough to be placed in a harem they are going to work in open-faced manner. Some of them are stenographers or shop girls. The change that has come over Turkey would make some of the old-time Sultans howl with amazement.

MODERN MAIDENS

The compilations at Leland Stanford University show that the girl of 18 or 20 years of age weighs a good deal more than the like girl of the previous generation. She is an inch or two taller and she weighs ten or fifteen pounds more. The girl of today has clothes that weigh only four or five pounds as against the twenty or more pounds that grandma used to carry. She is taller, heavier and more athletic than the maiden of the last century. Also she is much jazzier.

SKIRTS AND DICTATORS

Under the new regulation against short skirts as promulgated by the Grecian dictator a maid of Athens was banished. Possibly she will be permitted to return some day, but not on her bare knees. It takes a mighty brave dictator to monkey with a lady's wardrobe. He can prescribe tariffs or command the sword, but when he attempts to arbitrarily determine the length of a woman's skirt he is carrying a torch into a powder mine. There are certain things that even a patient stenographer will not accept as dictation.

THE GAS INDUSTRY

In spite of electric development more gas is being used than ever before. Last year over 420,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas was burned and this vast total may be exceeded this year. It is just 130 years ago that M. Ambroise, an Italian pyrotechnician, first demonstrated this strange blue flame to a small company of citizens of Philadelphia. It was just 120 years ago that David Melville used gas to light his home and also the street on which he lived in Newport, Mass. It was just 110 years ago that the first gas company was formed for the purpose of piping the illuminant to homes. This was in the city of Baltimore. It was just fifty years ago—at the Philadelphia Exposition—that the first general demonstration was made of the use of gas for cooking. Now more than 80 per cent of the nation's rations are cooked by the use of gas. The industry has become the oldest and one of the strongest of public utilities and gas is believed to be an essential in every home.

FIGHTING PROGRESS

American Education Week has already achieved the honor of being bitterly denounced by the Communist League of America. The public schools are the "bete noire" of the Communists, for they see in our educational system the most dangerous enemy of Communism. A system that teaches love of country, love of truth, love of home and love of God—a system that teaches love in place of hate—renders the American soil barren to the noxious growths of all forms of sovietism. Unless this system can be destroyed a Bolshevist revolution can never be successful in this country. Hence the Red opposition to American Education Week.

Subsidized by the sales of Bolshevik plunder, groups of reds, pinks and yellows are conducting a campaign against patriotism. They are distributing in sections of the country peopled largely by manual workers thousands of Bolshevist pamphlets. They are especially active in the foreign districts of the great industrial centers. Their aim is to keep the children of the working classes out of the public schools. They prefer absolute ignorance to education conducted along other than soviet lines.

Many of the workers of Los Angeles who have received these pamphlets have sent them to The Times, asking whether the statements they contain are true or false. They desire an answer to give to those who shall insist that the condition of the children in the "Union of Socialist Soviet Republics" is superior to that in this country, and who insist that the workers of Russia fare better than those of the United States.

Absolute contradition to such statements is to be found in the Bolshevist newspapers themselves. It is there admitted that the condition of the children in Russia is appalling, that millions of them are wandering in roving bands about the country; that they are weakened by hunger and disease and vitiated by the crime in the midst of which they live.

In no other country in the world are the children in such desperate straits as in soviet Russia. The public school system under the soviets is but a hollow mockery. The schools are unattended, a generation is approaching maturity in hopeless ignorance of the things in life worth knowing. They are schooled only in crime and deceit. They are taught that it is easier to live by plunder than by labor; and the great majority of the children receive no public instruction in any form.

Contrast that condition with the condition of the children of free America, where education is compulsory, where the State houses children without parental support, where education between the sixth and the eighteenth years is compulsory, where the greater part of the tax money of most States and municipalities is expended on public education.

As the system of compulsory education becomes more comprehensive, ignorance is abolished. All children receive a training in the fundamentals of life in civilized communities. They learn to reckon with figures, to express their thoughts in written characters and to grasp from printed characters the thoughts of others. They learn the rudiments of the history of vanished civilizations, the fundamentals of the government under which they live, and the laws by which national and community life is regulated.

Hate is a better revolutionary tonic than love, so hate is a fundamental of Communism. Those who accept the false statements of the Communist literature receive the impression that the lot of the manual worker is harder in this country than elsewhere, that he is a victim of a system of low wages, that military training in the high schools and colleges is maintained for the purpose of keeping the control of the government out of the hands of the proletariat.

The truth is that wages in the United States, compared with the prices of the necessities of life, are at least double the wages in any country in Europe. American workers are better housed, better fed, better paid than the workers of any European country; and the children of all classes receive here a liberal education.

Military training in the high schools and colleges is not part of a military system. It has nothing in common with compulsory military service in time of peace, as practiced in Russia and in other European countries. Elementary military training is necessary to a people that must be prepared to defend itself against foreign aggression. A weakling is called upon to defend himself much oftener than a trained athlete; and this is true of peoples as well as of individuals.

The Communists' League is opposed to everything calculated to promote peace and prosperity in the United States. The League seeks to foment a Communist revolution, to bring about the universal dictatorship of Communism, with Moscow as its world capital. Among the supporters of Communism are many malignant spirits and many more dupes. Education is the best protection against revolutionary violence; and that is why the Communists are so assiduous in their campaign against the present system of public education in this country.

TOO MUCH AT STAKE

Mark Sullivan, veteran newspaper writer, in a recent address delivered before a Los Angeles club, administered a blow, almost amounting to a coup de grace, to the newly born hopes of the "wets," fostered by a few Congressmen and a small section of the American press.

Mr. Sullivan's remarks were all the more telling because he was not appearing as a "dry" crusader, was not imputing base motives to those who are working to modify the Volstead Act and was taking no side in the somewhat superheated drink controversy. In fact, he was not speaking primarily on prohibition at all. His subject was the magnificent achievements of the past quarter century.

Those achievements, wrought not by preachers, reformers, moralists or crusaders, but by scientists and mechanicians and engineers, have made a return to the days of recognized alcoholic drinking as impossible as the elevator has made a return to the old hoop skirts or the steamship a swing back to the picturesque windjammer.

In fact, we can never go back to the saloon or to a regime that permits alcoholic muddling of the human brain because these abnormalities are now too dangerous in the consequences involved. The public has too much at stake. The mechanical era on which we have now entered, in the United States at any rate, requires sobriety for the preservation of human life.

We have advanced from the age of the easily controlled horse and vehicle to the powerful gas-driven motor car and are entering the era of the even more dangerous aircraft. As ever mightier machines and forces are brought under the manipulation of individual men and women ever steadier brains and more sober nerves are needed, not alone for the safety of those who handle such terrific mechanical power, but even more for the mass of their fellowbeings.

Alcohol is the arch-enemy of the steady nerve and clear vision. A few drinks of light wine or beer might muddle the brains of the men with the pick and shovel under older conditions with no serious results, but they would incapacitate the engineer at the valves and controls of the steam excavator.

So while useful, when properly controlled, engines of possible destruction every day assume a more prominent part in the mechanics of our advancing civilization, every agent that may confuse the mentality in charge of these new engines must be renounced with Spartan sternness. The rules of our railroad companies that long before prohibition required their engineers to be total abstainers now apply to the majority of our citizens and will require closer application as science progresses. There is too much at stake to permit a return to customs, though not immoral in themselves, that belong to the past with its utterly different speed and power standards.

A STRANGE RULING

Confronted with a court order which prohibits them from publishing the news of a murder trial, Mississippi and Louisiana newspaper men are going right ahead and publishing their reports, anyhow, order or no order.

Valiant as this defiance of the court may seem, one cannot judge at this distance whether the risk taken by these southern journalists is really worth while. They may be heavily fined and imprisoned for their palpable contempt of court. On the other hand, perhaps the judge will see that he went a little too far in making this unusual ruling and will withdraw it.

American journalists are not accustomed to being muzzled in the manner attempted by this judge. Unless it can be shown conclusively that the interests of the public would be impaired or that the ends of justice would be thwarted by the publication of reports of a trial few editors in California would pay the slightest attention to such an order. A gentle request made on such a showing as has just been indicated might be treated with some consideration, but a positive and arbitrary order of the kind referred to would make but a slight appeal.

A New York newspaper which seems to glory in the attitude assumed by the southern press in this case says that it is in marked contrast with that of the Mississippi educators in regard to the antievolution act passed by the Mississippi Legislature. This act, which, as the New York journal says, was a gross violation of their rights, was meekly accepted by the educators.

As the southern editors doubtless know what they are doing and are not fearful of consequences, it is good news to learn that jealousy of civic rights has not been wholly cowed and subdued in all professions in the South.

ON THE DEAD

Dispatches tell of a man who has been arrested for stealing ten tombstones. There should be no hesitation in asserting that this is a grave crime. There is no information as to what the robber did with his booty. If he is collecting epitaphs he must be a high-powered kleptomaniac.

The modern wife knows more about vanity cases than she does about market baskets.

COURTESY AND COPS

It is intended that the police force at Washington shall set examples in courtesy and efficiency that will serve for the whole country. The coppers in other towns are urged to look at their blue-coated brothers at the national capital and behave in like manner.

The Washington chief asserts that next to courage politeness is the upstanding trait of a qualified police officer. He insists that his men shall indicate it under all circumstances. Even when they are compelled to slug a refractory citizen they must do it in a polite and courteous manner. Possibly the cop is expected to doff his hat and with a gentle "Excuse me" administer the knock-out blow. If it comes to shooting, the officer will express regret over the necessity of pulling his gun and explain that it hurts him worse than the man he is practicing on.

Being arrested for bigamy or running over a pedestrian should become almost a pleasure at the capital.

Whether this rage for courtesy can be extended over the land is doubtful. The situation in Washington is slightly different from other cities. At the capital a cop is sometimes called upon to look after a boisterous Senator or a quarrelsome diplomat; and these folk are rather insistent upon special consideration. If a Congressman from New Jersey is nailed for cutting a corner he is apt to be indignant over it and it is well that the officer should be suave and discreet in applying the law.

But it will be a fine thing if courtesy can be permanently enthroned in the Washington police department. The idea is commended to the attention of the new chief in this city.

TO A BAKED POTATO

By James J. Montague.

(As Keats might have fashioned it)

Would I were as important as thou art,
Thou necessary attribute of steak,
With golden butter bubbling in the heart
Imbruing every white and mealy flake.
Thy coat laid open with a gleaming knife,
Revealing all the opulence inside
That I may gaze, and whet my appetite
What time the joy of life
Awakes within me rare and new delight—
In bliss untasted, thrills as yet untried.

Lucullus never dreamed of such a feast;
The gods themselves, when they sat down to dine
Upon the flesh of tender bird or beast
Knew never any flavor such as thine.
For in their day the painted Indian knew
Alone the haunts beneath the delved earth,
The molding vipes frost stricken o'er thy head,
Where thou to plumpness grew,
Expanding to thy full and goodly girth—
Whilst, drowsy-eyed, thou layest in thy bed.

What found Columbus, when, by billows tossed,
Beset by gales that never went to rest,
The wide unknown, uncharted seas he crossed
His bows turned west, and west, and ever west?
A continent? Three such he left behind!
What need to find another? None forsooth!
But thou wert worth the dangers that he ran—
Thou esculent, designed
To rouse the hearts of crabbed age and youth,
And prove the noblest food of gods or man.

FALLACY AND FACT

BY ELMER ELLSWORTH HELMS

The wets declare, "Prohibition has never been enforced in the past in any State or country where it has been tried and, therefore, it should be repealed."

In 1875 America was shocked by the expose of a whisky ring, with St. Louis the center of operations. An unconscionable bunch of distillers had connived and bribed government officials and in ten months had defrauded the government of more than $10,000,000 revenue. The silent Grant insisted every guilty man, high or low, should be prosecuted and punished. Two hundred and forty distillers were indicted, and the chief clerk of the Treasury Department at Washington and the private secretary and adviser of the President himself. Convictions were wholesale. The silent man of Vicksburg and Appomattox showed that bloated liquor plutocrats could be made to feel the steel and that the government of the United States was mightier than traitors.

It is being enforced much more effectively than this anarchic gang wish it were. Among the more than 300 cases of enforcement which we have noted within four weeks I cite these: Twelve mayors of cities convicted for nonenforcement of the law and for collusion with law breakers. Chicago's twenty-sixth brewery padlocked for violation of the law. United States Attorney Emory Buckner has padlocked more than 500 places in New York the last four months, forty-one the day before Christmas; 5376 places have been padlocked in the United States the last sixteen months. Thirty-nine thousand persons have been sent to jails and prisons, $19,500,000 in fines has been assessed and collected the last twelve months. When on December 5 William Dwyer and forty-three others were arrested in New York that broke the back of the greatest rum ring in the world, whose profits were $25,000,000 a year. In recent raids in Newark, Jersey City and Hoboken 800 respectable, highly indignant citizens were locked up for violating the prohibition law. This in spite of the fact that they indignantly declared their sacred rights as law breakers had been assailed. There will be no more liquor violations by our T-Bone Riley Cafe for the simple reason that by a recent court decision there will be no T-Bone Riley Cafe. The famous Cliff House of San Francisco has been closed, not for one year, but permanently, after numerous raids and proved violations.

A Prayer

"God of the open air."
God of the everywhere.
Hear us—our prayer.

Till time shall change
Our human form
Lead Thou us on.

We know Thy love is everywhere,
Nor can we pass beyond its care—
Forgive our hearts' despair.

Beyond this earthbound scene
Receive Thine own;
Prepare us for the joys serene.

She Knew Lawyers

The widow of a wealthy capitalist was very low. Greatly worried because she had made no will she called in her lawyer, who soon noticed her perturbed state of mind.

"Just leave this all to me," said the lawyer, trying to soothe her.

"Oh, well," sighed the widow resignedly, "perhaps I might as well. You'll get nearly all of it anyway."—[Exchange.

LETTERS TO The Times

Safe Odds

LOS ANGELES, March 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Is it not time this farce being enacted by the District Attorney of Los Angeles county was ended? In order to get the taxpayers to pay for his junket to New York he had to have some sort of official business as an excuse; the brass-band examination of witnesses (who many times have told all they knew) in the Taylor murder case is the result. All the "witnesses" he has interviewed are frequently in Los Angeles and could as well have been interviewed here.

I understand the bookies along Spring street are offering 300 to 1 that no one will be put on trial for the murder of Taylor when the District Attorney returns, and 2000 to 1 no one will be convicted. I would not advise anyone to take these bets, because I am convinced the bookies would win. I hope The Times will give its readers the itemized expense account the District Attorney will present for his trip and I also hope the Board of Supervisors has backbone enough to refuse to pay it.

Financing Cotton

ALHAMBRA, March 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In today's Sunday Times I read with a great deal of interest the article on the cotton yield of Arizona. Recently I read that there are about 480,000 acres planted in cotton in the Southwest and that there would soon be 1,000,000 acres if the cotton grower were properly financed.

In the old cotton States the grower is financed by what is known as "Cotton Factors" and is a sound business of large proportions, thoroughly supported and understood by the banks of the South.

The writer has never yet heard of there being adequate financing arrangements for the grower in the Southwest.

Why does not the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles get behind a plan for financing the grower as is done in the South?

Crop and chattel mortgages could be taken to secure the loans.

Why not take care of what we have now instead of just boosting real estate sales?

A. E. ALTEN.

A Scriptural Reference

BELL, March 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Do not we Christians take Christ as our criterion? Do not we ask ourselves, when in doubt, what would Jesus do in our place? Did not Jesus go to a wedding where they drank wine? Did He not make better wine when they ran out? Didn't He drink wine Himself and told us to do likewise in remembrance of Him?

How, then, can it be a sin and a crime to drink wine when our Lord Jesus Christ advocated it?

Can a law contrary to the Holy Bible and the teachings of our Lord endure?

House Bands and House Wives

SOUTH PASADENA, March 23. [To the Editor of The Times: Why all this talk about passing laws to prevent married women from working? It sounds asinine to me. It has been my observation, stretching over a long period of years, that married women, as a rule, do not go out to work unless they have to. This is particularly true of the older women. There are some exceptions, of course; but they are exceptions. While I do not wish to speak here in a derogatory way of the "Lords of Creation," I will say this: that if the men of the present generation were the "House Bands" they are supposed to be, which would permit the women to be the "House Wives" they were intended to be, the situation would be different.

As it is, haven't the fanatics among us done enough damage without seeking to do more? If a law was passed instead to fine heavily everyone who meddles with his neighbors' personal affairs it would be the biggest boon that could be granted us. The majority of people 'round about have never learned, it seems, just where their rights and privileges end and other people's begin; but go through life on the principle that there is no end to their rights and privileges and that other people have none that they are bound to respect.

A MATTER OF PRECEDENCE

David Belasco was telling stories of the old stock company days.

"A manager," he said, "was moving his company on the cheap. They traveled from town to town in freight cars at freight rates.

"Well, they pulled up at a junction one Sunday morning, and the junction boss came out and bawled to the conductor of the freight:

"'What ye carrin', Jim?'

"'Oh, fertilizer and actors,' Jim bawled back.

"Then the heavy tragedian stuck his head out of a cattle car and thundered:

"'Gadzooks, fellow, you might have put the actors first!'"—[Unidentified.

Porpoises Furnish Oil

Observing schools of porpoises sporting about in the water, few ocean travelers are aware that these strange animals have supplied them with an important product. The watches ticking in their pockets probably are lubricated with porpoise oil.

Oil for timepieces must answer very exacting requirements, among them insensitiveness to heat and cold. At night watches are exposed to chill air after having been carried close to the body all day. The oil must not thicken or congeal on account of this change of temperature.

That extracted from the jaw pans of porpoises is said to be unsurpassed for lubricating watches. With the large increase in watch factories in the United States, porpoise fishing has become an important industry all along the Atlantic Coast line.—[Kansas City Star.

PEN POINTS

There are worse things than mergers. Look at Europe.

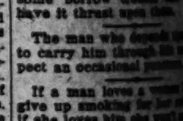
An automobile is something of progress. The crank is not in front.

It must be awful to have a motor and have nobody in the house notice it.

Among a tractor's virtues is its inability to stroll about and pick up its own motive power.

Usually you can tell when you're looking at a man whether he likes cabbage edible.

Americanism: Figuring out a way to take on something else on the easy-payment plan.



You can tell when you're coming to a hick town. The hicks are frequently only a car apart.

Almost everybody could be philosophical about the other fellow's boil.

Small nations are those that get into the League without having their heads bit.

We see by the headlines some old-fashioned people still believe in letting out a yell instead of getting a dollar.

You hardly ever see a man with a gold brick now. There isn't enough to sell one a week.

Of course, prohibition is a failure, but it's also to wake up in the morning with a clear head.

The thing that makes the market break is a large foot always climbing in at the top.

Americanism: Chinese taxi drivers; bragging about how well the wife can drive.

Some people sleep to make up for having active minds and others stocks on margin.

If only women drove men! Then when you took to the air you could soothe your pilot by calling it chivalry.

The Russians propose to turn potatoes into liquor, but even then the price of the fuel will provide sufficient kick.

Correct this sentence: "She is very handsome," said the husband, "but my wife never worries when he's away from home."

What goes up must come down with the exception of the cost of living.

The manufacturer of a new reducing remedy lives on the fat of the land.

Poor people are never pressed with the way rich folks spend money.

Some men are born to borrow trouble and others have it thrust upon them.

The man who demands the right to carry him through life must expect an occasional jolt.

If a man loves a woman he will give up smoking for her and she if she loves him she won't.

This world would come very close to being perfect if we could all follow the advice we give.

There are worse things than mergers. Look at Europe.

An automobile is something like progress. The crank is out front.

It must be awful to feel a motor and have nobody in the family notice it.

Among a tractor's weaknesses is its inability to stroll afield and pick up its own motive power.

Usually you can tell just by looking at a man whether he thinks cabbage edible.

Americanism: Figuring out a way to take on something else on the easy-payment plan.

You can tell when you're coming to a hick town. The billboards are frequently sixty or eighty feet apart.

Almost everybody enjoys being philosophical about the other fellow's boll.

Small nations are those that never get into the League without first having their hands tied.

We see by the headlines that some old-fashioned married folks still believe in killing one mate instead of getting a divorce.

You hardly ever see a horse-trader with a gold brick now. It's hard enough to sell one a used car.

Of course, prohibition is a failure, but it's nice to wake up every morning with a clear head.

The thing that makes the market break is a large flock of hawks climbing in at the top.

Some people sleep too much and have active minds and others buy stocks on margin.

If only women drove trucks! Then when you took to the ditch you could soothe your pride by calling it chivalry.

The Russians transform their potatoes into liquor, but ever have the price of the raw spuds provides sufficient kick.

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE MARSHAL

Marshal Foch, he sits and smiles on his medals, stacked in rows and it's strange if he loathes over fame and its rewards. He would gladly go a-shopping for the things a marshal needs, but the bank account is dropping and the reinforcements pleads. He's enshrined in song and story, he's immortal, never fear, but he thrills in all his glory, just three hundred bucks a year. People weep with emotion quiver when they speak of the hero's name, but he has to mend a flivver that is rusty, when it's lame. All the cars of foreign splendor are reserved for foreign wights who have gathered fame in tender running risky stunts in nights; and for authors who have printed smoking tales of sin and sex, full of action agfree that's full of mental, moral wrecks; and for handsome movie actors clad in steeds and shooting guns, heading to the bank, with tractors, piling rubles, tons on tons; and for all the glad promoters who go drilling holes for oil, and to the cheerful voters selling stuff provided soil. All the world is making money, garnering the harvest, and the marshal would be funny if he didn't look so sad. When the world, in its bewilderment, prayed for leadership in time, Foch, he pulled the trick achievement, greatest feat of modern time. All old heroes pass before him, all the giants lost the days, and we used to rather like him with our eulogies and praise. Now we don't admire him nearly, he is not the chief he was for we read the tale just lately of the salary he draws. Something wrong about the marshal, something's lacking in his hat, we mark with thoughts disgustful, he can't make more than that.

Take Student Class on Globe Journey

Stations to Transmit Addresses En Route

BY PAUL SHEEDY

Walter Sylvester Hertzog, radio historian, is to represent the noted broadcast station of the Midwest in a six-month tour of the world under plans now being completed by this well-known radio man and Dr. Leonard J. Vance, who plan to conduct their first college travel school, taking a group of students on a tour of the world leaving Los Angeles this fall and returning home in time for the Christmas holidays.

Many of the unique travel features which is the third of its kind in the country, but the first to be established for the Pacific coast are being completed by Prof. Vance and Dr. VandenBergh, and a number of students already have signed for the trip by their parents, although the announcements have been made in the past few days with an elaborate descriptive folder printed.

The party, augmented by fully qualified instructors in all branches of study, that the students may keep abreast of their regular classes by daily lessons en route, will leave Los Angeles Harbor aboard the new liner Malolo, Calsa, India, Egypt and Greece, Italy, France, Belgium and the British Isles, with many incidental side trips. Returning from England for home, students will have the choice after landing at New York, of a rail to California, or by boat through the Panama Canal.

A number of youths already have signed for the remarkable trip by their parents, and reservations are being taken by Prof. Vance who has been forced to discontinue his nightly broadcast of American history, a feature of the station for 530 consecutive nights, and will now appear on Friday evenings until the time for departure, when he will speak over the stations of all the important radio stations, begining at Honolulu, at Kobe, Japan; Bombay, India, and on eastward until reaching HJO, the big London station carrying greetings from the sunny California.

BY JUANA NEAD LEVY

The gardens of the lovely new home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lawler in Crescent Drive, Beverly Hills, formed an exquisite setting for the wedding yesterday afternoon of their daughter, Miss Jane Lawler, and John David Stern of San Francisco, the ceremony being read at half past four o'clock by Judge Nathaniel Parrish Conrey, in the presence of immediate relatives and a few close friends.

The dainty bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite creation of white satin with trimmings of pearls and rare old lace, the billowy veil of tulle and lace being held in place by sprays of orange blossoms, and she carried long sprays of small white orchids.

The maid of honor was Miss Margaret Martin, while other attendants included Miss Polly Schoder and Mrs. Dinkelspiel (Florence Hellman of San Francisco,) Miss Mary Ann Strohn and Miss Carolyn Cochran. They were all frocked alike in white taffeta, the long tight bodices and full skirts of taffeta and tulle reaching almost to the ankles made an effective picture. Their hats were of white horsehair braid with white moire ribbons and a touch of green, carrying out the green and white color scheme. The maid of honor carried an arm shower of orchids, lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern, while the bouquets of the other attendants were of lilies of the valley and ferns.

Gustav Schwartz of San Francisco served Mr. Stern as best man. The ushers coming down from the north to assist were Robert Levinson, M. Heller, Leon Schloss and Frederick Hellman. The bridal party passed along a primrose path to the altar of ferns, potted plants, Easter lilies and a profusion of spring flowers.

Following the ceremony there was an informal reception and wedding supper, after which Mr. and Mrs. Stern left for their wedding trip, which will include a honeymoon in Europe. After their return they will make their home in San Francisco.

Mrs. Stern, mother of the bridegroom, came home from abroad to attend the ceremony, arriving in Los Angeles Saturday, and is domiciled at the Beverly Hills Hotel. Other relatives from the north were Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Stern of San Francisco, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom.

A buffet supper for the wedding party followed a rehearsal at the Lawler home Sunday evening. There have been numerous charmingly arranged prenuptial courtesies extended the dainty bride, who is one of the most popular members of the younger set.

Engagement Announced

Among the charmingly arranged affairs of recent date was the dinner-dance with which Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Peat of 855 South Rossmore avenue entertained at the Mary Louise Friday evening in honor of their attractive daughter, Miss Lillian Martha Peat, the occasion celebrating her birthday anniversary as well as serving to formally announce her engagement to Frank T. Copple, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Copple of Covington, Ky.

The dinner was served in the Italian gardens, which were beautifully decorated with a profusion of spring flowers and ferns. Corsage bouquets of violets and red roses with tiny boutonnieres formed the place favors, the announcement cards being hidden beneath the blossoms, thus revealing the secret of the engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. Peat were assisted in receiving by Mrs. R. T. Copple, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sherpe Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Dempsey, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan L. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Cassell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schaefer, Mrs. Louis Schirm and Mrs. Bonnie Beach Ryan.

The dance which followed the dinner took place in the ballroom and 150 guests were bidden.

The wedding will be one of the events of early June, although the exact date has not yet been decided upon. Miss Peat is one of the most popular members of the younger set. Following her graduation from Hollywood High School, she accompanied her parents on an extended trip through Europe, being away a year. She later attended University of California, Southern Branch, where she is a member of the Alpha Tau Zeta sorority. Many prenuptial affairs are being arranged in honor of Miss Peat, the dates not being settled, however.

Real Potato Bread

A wonderful new loaf from Holland Dutch ovens

"Aardappel brood," as the Holland Dutch call this vigorous loaf, is a great hearty fellow with a crusty exterior but a tender heart. You can't help but relish such robust goodness. A welcome addition to Van de Kamp's big family of breads.

Real potato bread is this. For it is made with fresh potatoes, boiled in their jackets to give finest taste and flavor, carefully peeled and thoroughly mashed. The dough is further enriched with milk, then slashed on top so the crust surface is increased, dusted with white rye flour, and the delicious flavor brought out by slow baking. Potato bread of such quality has never before been available in Los Angeles.

At your neighborhood Van de Kamp store today you'll find this potato bread fresh and fragrant from Holland Dutch ovens. And eighteen other varieties of well-baked breads ... tender dainty loaves of every description ... white breads and dark breads ... whole grain breads and vitamine breads ... nut breads and raisin breads ... and the whole family of breads.

Courteous salesgirls in dainty Holland Dutch costumes are ready to help you choose from a wealth of good things—luscious pies, wonderful cakes, Honey-Bran doughnuts and other doughnuts, delicious coffee cakes, cookies and pastries, Amsterdam rusks, and such hearty fare as Boston baked beans, Holland Dutch egg noodles, crisp potato chips and pretzels. POTATO BREAD
(Shown in large photograph)
Serves this wholesome bread with hearty meals. It goes just right with meats and fish. The rich dark brown crust is thick but tender. The inside of the loaf is fine textured and creamy white. Firmer and more moist than pan breads. Tempting flavor comes from a wealth of fresh potatoes, boiled in their jackets, peeled and mashed and mixed in the dough with rich milk. Makes wonderful toast. An excellent bread for serving to kiddies with jelly or jam. Such potato bread, made in the old-fashioned Holland Dutch way, stays fresh a long time. 1-lb. loaf, 15c.

WHITE RAISIN BREAD
Doughs like lots of raisins in raisin bread? There's nearly half a pound of plump Sun-Maid raisins in every loaf from Van de Kamp's. Additional flavor comes from the use of raisin-sugar and California orange marmalade. Large loaf, 22c. Also being made now in medium size loaf, 16c.
Also Raisin Health bread made of 100% whole wheat flour and Sun-Maid raisins. Large loaf, 22c.

This delicious bread will appeal to those who want a dark bread that is not coarse but that contains all the vital elements of the wheat. A special flour is used in Van de Kamp's Vitamine bread made of whole wheat ground as finely as white flour. It contains the bran, the wheat germ and all the vitamines. Yet it is as fine-textured and nearly as light as white bread. Try a loaf today. When toasted it is delicious and may safely be added to a non-fattening diet. Large loaf, 16c.

CRACKED WHEAT BREAD

The contest has been open to all members of senior classes of any high school in the district, comprising the counties of San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Inyo and Los Angeles. Seventy-three essays were entered, all being of high merit.

Second prize goes to Powell Smith, Santa Barbara High School; honorable mention to James Nellson, Hollywood High; Phyllis Bastord, Ventura High; Ethel Donaldson, Downey High; Ida Noble, Pomona High; Treva Humphrey, San Pedro High, and the following from South Pasadena High: Marion Wilson, Elizabeth Russell, Jane Dimmitt and Jane Wallace.

Survey of the motion-picture theaters of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, reveals the fact that 60 per cent of the attendance at evening performances is constituted of children. A campaign is now under way by this department, Mrs. Alfred Graham, chairman, to correct this condition. Junior matinees given by many of the theaters in the district are encouraged as the proper time and pictures for the coming generation, as these are given with chaperons in attendance and only where approved pictures are shown. Mrs. Graham was recently appointed State chairman of the motion-picture department by the State president, Dr. Mariana Bertola.

At the luncheon of the MacDowell Club of Allied Arts, last Friday, the following poem by Neeta Marquis was read:

The book of the erudite club of MacDowell
Can give, you will see, to the wise, well-known owl,
If you'll follow our program precepts week by week,
And be guided by experts who paint, write, sing or speak.

How simple is learning at this latter date
Which furnishes culture, ad lib., while you wait!
There's no need for a body's remaining a dub,
When the cure is so simple—just joining a club.

Clubs, general, specific, male, female and Rotary,
Offer great gains to their humblest votary,
Some clubs are historic, and others are newsy,
I'm clubby myself, but I'm also quite choosey;
That's why I have sidestepped triangle and trowel,
To enroll 'neath the banner emblazoned "MacDowell."

I love what it does to make art democratic,
It's a scale of achievement I'd call —well, chromatic;
It answers the need of play-actors and rhymers,
Of daubers and warblers, and all-round good timers.

And since our highe priestess is with us today,
To join us in knocking off work to be gay,
For a brief little hour in the spring, when all earth
Is setting us tempting examples of mirth.

Then I say there's no club quite so blessed as MacDowell,
I'm blest if there is! and it's our day to howl.

Mrs. MacDowell was present at the meeting and spoke about the artists' colony in Petersboro, N.H. This colony was the theme of the discussion at the last meeting of the club, last night.

Kansas Beauty Arrives to Look Southland Over

The fairest maid from the Kansas corn belt arrived in California yesterday to look us over. She is Nina Hughes, who has survived twenty-one years of blistering summer heat and icebound windy winters to win a beauty contest recently conducted by the Wichita Eagle. As a prize for the contest winner, a trip to California was awarded and the Hollywood Plaza Hotel will entertain her for two weeks.

O. G. Millham of the All-Year Club met her yesterday when the California Limited arrived. The All-Year Club has planned auto tours of Southern California for Miss Hughes and the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce will take her on a yachting trip.

She will also attend the annual Kansas picnic next Saturday at Sycamore Grove. Miss Hughes has been extended invitations to visit a number of studios.

PETERSONS OPEN NEW GRAY SHOP

Throngs Attend Showing of Styles Catering Exclusively to Larger Type of Woman

Congratulations poured in on Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Peterson at the opening yesterday of the new Petesson's Gray Shop at 738 West Seventh street, in the same block with the old Gray Shop, but across the street.

Peterson's Gray Shop, featuring larger sizes exclusively in women's apparel, has been a local institution for the last eight years, having opened in the Brack Shops first with but one display room.

The establishment has five separate shops included in its service.

In addition to featuring coats, gowns and sportswear for larger women, the new Gray Shop also has complete departments for millinery, corsets and brassieres.

The new shop is extremely modern and artistic in its simplicity of setting and subdued richness throughout. Gray is combined effectively with a soft rose-mauve in woodwork and hangings. Millinery with coats and gowns for formal year fill the first floor while on the second are found individual fitting rooms and a sitting-room.

Smart Los Angeles thronged to the opening yesterday viewing the collection of apparel for early summer which had been assembled for the initial showing in the new shop.

London's thousands of bachelors need no longer go around without buttons on their clothes, two London women having just opened up a shop for the express purpose of sewing on buttons.

Now moth-worms won't eat woolen things

You can make every woolen thing you own mothproof—so that no moth-worm will eat it.

And that is the only sure way to prevent moth-damage—forget the moth and protect the cloth itself.

Such protection, however, was never possible until LARVEX was invented. This amazing liquid is the first absolute protection for all things woolen.

It is delightfully simple to use. Spray it thoroughly on a woolen article. It penetrates the wool fibres. It mothproofs the cloth for an entire season.

Articles mothproofed with LARVEX are safe anywhere. Moth-worms will not eat them. And only the moth-worms do eat. Moths themselves are harmless. They merely lay eggs which hatch into moth-worms.

Let your Larvexed clothes hang in the closets. Always available. Always safe. Never wrinkled. Never smelly. For LARVEX is odorless.

Harmless, too! And non-inflammable. Make all your woolen things mothproof with LARVEX.

LARVEX with special atomizer is $1.50. Once you have the atomizer buy LARVEX without atomizer, $1. Or save money—buy the gallon refill size at $5, or the ¼ gallon at $2. At drug, department and furniture stores. Get LARVEX today. THE LARVEX CORPORATION, Brooklyn, N. Y.

It's a Good World after all!

Many a man goes to work every morning with a chip on his shoulder, simply because he has slipped a cog in his diet.

Once he corrects that fault, it's amazing how quickly things take on a new light; how soon the smiles begin to drive away the frowns.

Too little bulk in the food we eat is responsible for a lot of snarls and frowns and Monday morning blues.

And unless something is done about it, that very lack in our diet may endanger even health itself.

Post's Bran Flakes is a delicious cereal that supplies the needed bulk to millions of people every day.

Try it. You'll like it. Eat it every day for two weeks and see how easy it is to be optimistic.

In addition to bulk, Post's Bran Flakes also brings to the body such vital health essentials as: phosphorus, iron, protein, carbohydrates and vitamin-B.

It's the best-liked bran food in the world. Eat it every day as an "Ounce of Prevention."

It's a pretty good world after all. Send for free test package.

SEA-FOOD COCKTAIL

C. S., Los Angeles—Fill oyster cocktail glasses two-thirds full with equal parts of cold-boiled lobster meat cut in cubes and California oysters. Hang on the rim of the glass some cold-boiled and cleaned shrimps and fill the glass with a good oyster cocktail sauce.

ROBERT SAUCE

V. D., Long Beach—Place in a small saucepan two tablespoonfuls of butter and two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped onion; cook until the onion is lightly browned, add one tablespoonful of tarragon vinegar and reduce one-half; add two and a half tablespoonfuls of sifted flour and stir and cook until lightly browned; stir in one cupful of cold brown meat stock, one tablespoonful of meat gravy and a few grains of cayenne pepper; beat over the fire until it comes to a boil, reduce the heat and simmer slowly until the onion is soft. Just before serving stir in one teaspoonful of dry mustard.

FROZEN WREATH CAKE

A. F., Los Angeles—Beat the yolks of three eggs and beat into them four tablespoonfuls of sugar mixed with one tablespoonful of corn starch, add four tablespoonfuls of milk, mix smooth and place in a double boiler and stir constantly over a slow fire until thick and smooth. Remove from the fire and stir in the grated rind of a half a lemon and the strained juice of one lemon, and cool. Beat to a cream half a cupful of unsalted butter and beat into it one cupful of sifted confectioners' sugar, add to the first mixture, mix well and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Split three dozen ladyfingers and place a layer of them on the bottom of a spring mold, place close together. Cover the ladyfingers with a layer of the filling; over this place another layer of ladyfingers and cover with filling; continue this until the mold is full; have the top a layer of ladyfingers. Place in a cold ice box for twelve hours. Unmold on a platter and cover with one cupful of whipped cream sweetened with four tablespoonfuls of sugar and add one teaspoonful of vanilla.

FRUIT BARS

N. J., Santa Monica—For the fruit bars beat to a cream four tablespoonfuls of lard and beat into it three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, rub smooth and beat in two beaten eggs, three-quarters of a cupful of molasses, and two level teaspoonfuls of soda dissolved in two-thirds of a cupful of milk. Sift four and a half cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon and two teaspoonfuls of cloves and mix with two cupfuls of seeded raisins, one cupful of seedless raisins, three-quarters of a cupful of chopped candied peel, one cupful of chopped figs, and two-thirds of a cupful of chopped walnut meats. Add to the first mixture and mix well. Divide into twelve pieces, roll into strips, place three strips in a wide baking sheet, flatten out with hand, brush with beaten egg and milk, and bake in a medium hot oven. Let cool and cut in slices. These are nice covered with orange icing.

SPAGHETTI TETRAZZINI

E. G., Los Angeles—Chop fine one pound of lean ham and place in a saucepan with two finely chopped onions, one small clove of garlic, two chopped green peppers, and two tablespoonfuls of very finely chopped celery; cook until the onions are soft and a light golden color. Add four pieces of dried mushrooms that have been soaked in warm water and chopped, the mushrooms water, half a cupful of Italian tomato paste, and one and a half cupfuls of tomato puree, let cook slowly for twenty-five minutes. Cook half a pound of spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender, drain and stir into the sauce, let cook five minutes, turn out on a hot platter, sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese, and set in a warm oven for ten minutes.

SPANISH BUNS

E. F. K., Santa Barbara—Place in a saucepan one cupful of water and a half a cupful of butter and bring slowly to a boil. Beat in gradually two cupfuls of flour and stir until it will leave the sides of the pan, turn into a bowl, cool, beat in the beaten yolks of three eggs and one teaspoonful of baking powder, beat well and add the well-beaten whites of three eggs. Cover a flat tin with a sheet of greased paper, drop the mixture onto it by spoonfuls having them two inches apart. Bake in a quick oven twenty minutes, cool, split open and fill with fig or other good jam.

COFFEE CAKE

Mrs. E., Los Angeles—One cake of yeast, one half-cupful milk scalded and cooled, one tablespoonful of sugar, two cupfuls sifted flour, one-half cupful light-brown sugar, one-half cupful raisins, two tablespoonfuls butter, one egg, one-fourth teaspoonful salt. Dissolve the yeast and one tablespoonful sugar in luke-warm milk. Add three-fourths cupful of flour to make sponge. Beat well. Cover and let raise forty-five minutes in a moderately warm place. Add butter and sugar creamed, egg well beaten, about one and one-fourth cupfuls flour, or sufficient to make a soft dough and the salt. Knead lightly, place in a greased bowl, cover and let raise in a warm place about two hours, or until double in bulk. Roll one inch thick and place in well-greased pan and let rise about an hour and a half. Cut across the top with a sharp knife, brush with butter, sprinkle with flour, sugar and cinnamon. Bake twenty minutes in a moderately hot oven.

A. F., Los Angeles—Select large red apples and carefully remove the core with a large column cutter, place the apples in an earthenware baking dish and in the hole left by the core place a pork breakfast sausage, leaving one-half of the sausage project from the apples. Bake until the skins crack, basting often with the fat from the sausages. Serve in the baking dish. Nice with fried hominy.

PUFF PASTE

W. D. R., Glendale—We do not advise the making of puff paste at home as the making requires care and experience and one can buy better puff paste shells from any good baker or caterer. The best puff paste is made on a cold marble slab and the paste must be kept cold at all times while making.

Place one cupful of butter in a bowl of ice water and work with the hand until smooth and waxy. Place in a clean napkin and knead it to free it from all moisture. Pat out into a flat square cake, place on a dry platter and set on the ice until wanted.

Sift onto a cold marble slab two cupfuls of sifted flour sifted with half a teaspoonful of salt, make a well in the center and pour in three tablespoonfuls of ice water, work in the flour and use enough more ice water to make a smooth paste, gather in all of the crumbs and knead until smooth. Wrap in a napkin and set on the ice for half an hour.

Sprinkle the slab with flour, lay on the paste and roll out in a square piece twice the size of the cold butter. Fold over the sides to the center, then fold over the ends keeping the shape square. Be careful that the butter is not exposed at any time. Turn the folded side down, with a rolling pin roll lightly away from you in a long narrow strip, keeping it even. Fold over to make three even layers. Place on the ice for fifteen minutes. Roll out and fold six times; after each turn if it shows signs of sticking to the slab, return it to the ice box to thoroughly chill. When it has been folded and rolled out six times roll out, cut in the desired shapes and place on the ice for thirty minutes. Bake on the bottom of a hot oven. This amount will make six patty shells.

MERGER OF GROCERIES COMPLETED

Safeway Company Takes Over Eighty-five Stores Operated by Chaffee

A transaction of considerable magnitude, the largest in the history of the grocery trade in this city, is the taking over today by the Safeway of the Chaffee chain of grocery stores, the purchase of which was announced some ten days ago.

The eighty-five Chaffee stores are located in Los Angeles, Glendale, Pasadena and in Orange, San Bernardino and Riverside counties, all of which will become part of the Safeway system, which at present covers the territory between Bakersfield and San Diego.

Asked if the Safeway has any further plans for expansion, Mr. Edward Dale, vice-president, stated that inasmuch as there are over 4000 grocers in this territory, with only about one-tenth of that number Safeways, it is quite reasonable to believe that there might be twice that number of Safeways in the same field without having reached the point of saturation.

BOY SAVES GIRL FROM DROWNING

William Capp of Venice Plunges Into Sea, Rescues Bather Caught in Rip Tide

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, March 29.—Billy Capp, 18 years of age, senior patrol leader of the Eagle Boy Scouts of Venice, added new laurels to a lengthy record of athletic achievement today, when he plunged into the surf off the South Venice beach and saved the life of Miss Dorothy Haisen of 4336 West Eighteenth street, Los Angeles.

WILLIAM CAPP

The youth made the rescue fully clothed except for his coat, and after bringing the young woman to the shore through a heavy rip tide revived her by first-aid treatment before the arrival of police and firemen with a pulmotor.

Young Capp was on the way to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Capp of 2507 Trolleyway, when he heard the screams of Miss Taisen's mother on the sands below Sunset Pier. Throwing off his coat the boy ran to the beach, swam to the struggling young woman several hundred feet from shore and fought his way back with her through the tide.

As an Eagle Scout, the Capp youth has won twenty-five merit badges for swimming, first-aid work and other achievements. He was also a member of the Venice High School championship basketball team, and only recently completed his examinations for admission to the United States Military Academy at West Point.

REALTY MAN BACK FROM WORLD TRIP

W. Ross Campbell Renews Health With Long Voyage; Will Resume Business

After an absence of more than three years, W. Ross Campbell, head of one of the largest realty brokerages in Los Angeles, returned to this city yesterday and ended a globe-circling trip which carried him through every important city of the United States, Mexico, England, Egypt and the Orient.

Immediately on his arrival here he expressed an enthusiastic wonderment at the phenomenal growth and building development of Los Angeles during the past three years. "Not a city I visited," he said, "can approach the activity and progress so evident in Los Angeles." Mr. Campbell was particularly impressed with the architectural beauty of the new height-limit buildings in the downtown area and declared that these surpassed in beauty and modern construction anything of their class that he had seen during his travels.

It was in 1923 that Mr. Campbell, acting on the advice of physicians, turned his business over to his associates, Clem Gross, R. L. McCourt and O. S. Lair, and embarked on his world journey. His health having returned he will again assume an active part in the real-estate business he founded twenty years ago, he said.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

MILK SHAKES

"Dear Doctor:

Here's a suggestion for those who want to gain. I was thin and looked horrid. I began to take chocolate milk shakes daily, about one hour or so after each meal. I missed only one or two days, and in two months I had gained nine pounds. I now take one once a week to keep my weight.—A."

A glass of milk is 160 calories. The amount of chocolate that would be used for flavoring would probably amount to another 100 calories and the syrup or sugar at least another 100—total 360 calories. So if you took three of these daily, A., you not only got some superexcellent food in your milk but you added 1000 calories each day to your diet. And that's what I'm telling your underweight followers to do. Milk in the form of chocolate drinks is a good form in which to take it.

I doubt if you will hold your weight if you take only one milk-shake a week now, unless you increase the rest of your diet. I think you had better send for our booklet on gaining. (enclose ten cents in stamps and self-addressed stamped envelope.)

A NUMBER OF THINGS

Mrs. A. wants to know: 1st. how much good is left in canned milk which she uses for cooking? 2nd. the food value of boiled onions, oyster plant, stewed celery, radishes, parsnips? 3rd, is sour milk good for autointoxication? 4th, the sun rays lose their ultra violet rays when filtered through glass; how about wire screens?

Answers: 1. Canned milk is milk evaporated to different degrees of concentration, and it loses practically nothing except its anti-scorbutic vitamins. (This vitamin you can get in your citrous fruits and raw vegetables.) The growth and antineuritic vitamin is not affected, according to Sherman.

2. The chief value of all vegetables lies in their residue, vitamins and alkaline salts (mineral elements.) The green leaf vegetables are usually higher in the vitamins and have a better grade of protein than root vegetables, but all vegetables are valuable. The caloric value of the onions, oyster plant and parsnips would be approximately one-half pound to the 100 calories; celery and radishes have more water in them, so the celery would be one and one-quarter pounds and the radishes a little less than a pound to the 100 calories. (The oil of the skin of the radishes may be irritating to weak stomachs.) Onions are high in iron and therefore are of value in anemia. The volatile oil which apparently is excreted by the lungs and is not altogether esteemed as a breath sweetener, is driven off by cooking, but the iron is not affected, if you don't throw away the water in which they are cooked.

3. Yes, sour milk is a wholesome food, and good in autointoxication as well as in health, on account of its lactic acid.

4. The wire screening would shut off a fraction of the beneficial sun rays.

We have an article on Balanced Diet which you may find helpful. Please send for this. (Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope with request.)

Miss L.—Our article on Tuberculosis may be had by the request accompanied by self-addressed, stamped envelope. With this you will get a list of books on the subject written for the layman.

Tomorrow — Radio Censorship and Calcium.

Mr Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you need inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, but over 500 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please plan your letters as evidence of good faith. You will see me in no other way. Remember it is impossible for me to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the kind letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I solicit.

Proprietor of Cafe Ends Life by Inhaling Gas

Despondent over money matters and believed to be mentally unbalanced, Samuel Oronzo, 45 years of age, proprietor of the Columbia Cafe, 6777 Washington Boulevard, yesterday killed himself by inhaling gas in the bathroom of his home at 3754 Cardiff avenue, Palms. Oronzo, who was released only two weeks ago from Patton, tried last December to commit suicide by leaping from the Venice pier.

While his wife, Mrs. Bettina Oronzo, was downtown, Oronzo locked himself in the bathroom and turned on the gas. He was dead when Officers Doane, Stevens and Cawthorne, summoned by Mrs. Oronzo on her return, broke in the door. The body was taken to the undertaking parlors of James F. Duffy in Culver City.

Truck Crushes Bridge Listed in Bond Issue

One of the city's old bridges, which the Council hopes to be able to replace with funds from a bond issue to be voted upon April 20, collapsed beneath a truck laden with steel yesterday morning.

The bridge is across Brown's canyon wash, on Devonshire street just east of Chatsworth. No one was injured. The bridge is of the "A-frame" construction, and the weight of the truck caused the supporting beam to break through a cast-iron shoe, thus permitting the structure to settle to the bed of the arroyo. The bridge is a fifty-foot span.

Assistant City Engineer Stewart said the street will be cleared for traffic by tonight. The expense of repairing the bridge wil be between $250 and $300, he said.

London is warring against milkmen employees who shortweight regular patrons and sell the stolen milk to customers of their own.

BARKIS WILLING, BUT IT TAKES TWO TO MAKE UP, DOESN'T IT?

The converse of the ancient thesis, that it takes two to make a quarrel, was demonstrated yesterday in Judge Summerfield's court, when it was established that it also takes two to make up.

Harry W. Gammon manifested a Barkis-like disposition in the matter, but Mrs. Emily Margaret Gammon was not inclined to let bygones be bygones.

"Not a chance in the world," was her firm and definite response to Judge Summerfield's proposal for a reconciliation.

The judge had observed the Gammons chatting amiably in a corner of the courtroom while waiting for their turn to be heard on the matter alimony pending trial of her suit for divorce.

"You seem to be friendly enough," Judge Summerfield observed. "How about making up?"

"Tickled to death," responded Gammon enthusiastically. "Judge, I love her to death."

"Not for me," exclaimed Mrs. Gammon, "I've had enough."

"But you seemed so friendly," urged the judge.

"Judge, I treat them all friendly, but I don't marry them or make up with them. I'm nice to them all, but that's just my way," explained Mrs. Gammon.

"Well, $10 a week is all the alimony I can allow you on the showing here," ruled the court. "Maybe you will feel more relenting after you have tried to live on that for a while."

Mrs. Gammon indicated she would try to make out, and left the courtroom with her attorney, Newton J. Kendall, with a smile for Gammon.

Evans and Gillespie are asserted to have caused the boardto pay invoices for chairs, which, according to the indictment against the acused men, were never delivered. The favorite staw of the original American, the Indian, was a mixture of corn and lima beans, called Sukquttahhash, which we know under the more easily spelled name of Succotash.

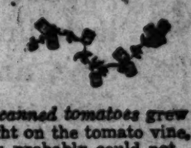
You will enjoy renewing acquaintanceship with this nutritious and Easy-to-eat food. Mizpah Succotash at the special price of 20c—offers the means. A half dozen or dozen won't be too many.



If canned tomatoes grew right on the tomato vine, you probably could not raise them for as little—as the special price—of 10c for the No. 2½ tin, which the Safeway offers today.

Aside from the lowness of price is the highness of quality, for these are extra good.

This country started out to become a tea drinking nation like the British. Protest against the tax on tea, culminating in the Boston Tea Party, turned the tide towards coffee,—and coffee has been the favorite beverage since.

We may as well adapt ourselves to this higher level of price of the past few years, due to higher labor costs, to lesser yield of the older plantations and to the Brazilian government's interest in the planter.

But there's a way of keeping costs within bounds. Safeway "High-Grade" points the way. A coffee quality that's as good as any put into a can, yet much cheaper because free from expensive frills. Not ground until you buy it, and then ground to suit your needs.

The special price, this week, of 2 lbs. for 75c—offers a clean saving of 19c a lb.

NOTE SPURS ON KIDNAPING HUNT

Long Beach Police Work on Scrawled Clew

Girl Gone Since 17th Inst. Believed Its Author

Auto Ride With Men Laid to Her by Chum

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, March 29.—Police today were endeavoring to determine whether a hastily scrawled note found in a vacant house a week ago by a city departmtnt employee has anything to do with the disappearance of the 17th inst. of Ruth Russell 17-year-old junior high-school girl. Although the girl has been missing since that date relatives did not express fears to police that she had been kidnaped until last Saturday.

"Help, I have been kidnaped, help, help," was the text of the unsigned note found in an abandoned house in the lonely Alamitos Bay district several days ago by Phil Thayer, a gas inspector. Prof. R. T. Sill, the girl's instructor at George Washington Junior High School, declared today the writing of the note is similar to the girl's handwriting as found in some of her school work. Relatives, however, did not agree as to the similarity.

There is a possibility that the girl was help captive in the Alamitos Bay house for several days, police admit, and they are looking for two men with whom the girl was last seen on the morning of the 17th inst. at Ocean Boulevard and Pine avenue.

The missing girl made her home with her aunt, Mrs. W. A. Martin, 1424 Chestnut avenue. According to Mrs. Martin's story to police, the girl returned from school on the afternoon of the 16th inst., changed her clothing and went with Margaret Fanning, a school chum, to the Pike, where the girls met two men. A ride in an automobile was proposed by the men, but Miss Fanning demurred, the latter declares. Miss Russell, however, accepted the ride and was not seen again by her relatives. The following morning a woman friend of the family saw the girl talking to two men at Pine and Ocean Boulevard. The girl appeared greatly agitated, it was reported.

A sign, "Positively No Admittance," was placarded on the abandoned house, later investigation revealed. If the girl was kidnaped and taken to that house, police declare, the sign also probably was placed there by the kidnapers with a view of keeping curious surf bathers away from the place while the girl was being held prisoner. Bulletins containing the girl's description and that of the two men were being broadcast today to every police department, Sheriff's office and detective agency in California.

"SWEET ADELINE" TURNS SOUR

Cop, Whose Savage Breast Refused to be Stilled by Music's Charms, Drags Singer to Judge Who Rules You Have to Be Drunk to Warble That Tune

Certain songs are as intimately connected with dry-law violations as Mendelssohn is with alimony payments, Municipal Judge Turney ruled yesterday, and persons with music in their souls were indirectly advised they will find it safer to emit only tunes of a classical nature in public.

Philip Meighan stood before Judge Turney charged with a liquor-law violation. He said he had a good excuse for his suspicious actions, to-wit:

He was walking along the street when he beheld a group of young men engaged in producing harmony. The song, he said, was one he knew well, and was fragrant with old memories. He joined the group, joining incidentally in the melody.

That was all he did, he declared, except to run afoul of a police officer whose savage breast the charms of music had no power to still. In brief, he said, the cop ran him in.

"What was this song which moved you so strongly?" asked Judge Turney.

"Sweet Adeline," responded the defendant, struggling nobly with his emotions.

The judicial look which presages the scaffold or the chair settled upon Judge Turney's countenance.

"Sweet Adeline," he said in a stone-cold voice, "is a song that savors of contempt for prohibition enforcement. It may occasionally be sung by someone on water, but there is no record of such an occurrence either in American or English law.

"But no drunken quartet has ever neglected to sing it. Sometimes they sing it over and over again." He shuddered. "Seventy-five dollars fine."

Arlen Cinema is Vehicle for Popular Players

"The Dancer of Paris," the first Michael Arlen story to reach the screen, is the current attraction at Loew's State.

Although the internationally popular author of "The Green Hat" and "These Charming People" has enjoyed no end of stage success, until the filming of "The Dancer of Paris" his work has not been done in pictures.

"The Dancer of Paris" is a typically Arlenesque tale, its central figure being an American girl, popular in the Montmartre of Paris. Her tragedies and romances form a screen story of unusual distinction and charm.

Dorothy Mackaill was chosen for the title role because of her more nearly resembling the type of girl suggested in the Arlen story than any one of the other score of other actresses considered for the part. Conway Tearle stars opposite Miss Mackaill. In the supporting cast are Robert Cain, Paul Ellis, Henry Vibart and Charles Craig.

Actor Best in Play That Fits Personality

Trixie Friganza, the heavyweight star of "Weak Sisters," now in its twelfth and final week at the Majestic Theater, was a contribution to make to the debate that has been raging, ever since Shakespeare's time, around the question:

"Does the actor make the play, or does the play make the actor?

Miss Friganza feels that unless a play is written to fit the personality of the artist, whether by intent or chance, the talent of the player is thrown away.

"The ideal situation in which an actress can find herself," says Trixie, "is to play a role that somehow fits one's natural and acquired abilities, and at the same time gives play to the best inspiration of which the artist is capable."

Following the run of "Weak Sisters," Marjorie Rambeau opens at the Majestic Sunday night, April 4, in her great comedy success, "The Goldfish."

Forrest Taylor Interested in Theater Project

Forrest Taylor member of the cast of "Desire Under the Elms," at the Orange Grove Theater and producer of dramatic stock at the Heilig Theater in Portland, is to become affiliated with Mayor Baker of Portland in a revival of the old Baker dramatic stock company, combined with the Forrest Taylor stock company in the presentation of year-round plays in a new theater to be erected in Portland at a cost of $400,000.

Prior to becoming Mayor, Mr. Baker was recognized as one of the leading stock managers of the United States.

The new theater will be erected and in operation within nine months according to Taylor who states that he hopes that the run of "Desire Under the Elms" will be over in time so that he can take charge of the new enterprise.

ORPHEUM BILL DOESN'T SHOW A SINGLE HEADACHE

By Grace Kingsley

The Orpheum continues to live up to its Persian rugs and gorgeous paintings, its marble halls and gold doors, in this week's bill.

Ted Lewis's London trip doesn't seem to have turned his head at all. He still inquires as anxiously as ever, "Are you happy?" Lordy, and all the while, sly dog, he knows we cannot help being happy when he is kidding and harmonizing and stepping about the stage, assisted by his orchestra and that adorable Bobby Arnst, who drags in a lot of the noise on her own behalf.

Grace Gordon, who was with me, said that the only trouble was, Ted should serve audience dancing with his music—"It's so hard to make your feet behave when that music is on." Ted's imitation of the village band and leader remains one of the cleverest bits in his routine.

Two minstrel-tinted boys, Tabor and Greene, hang up a new record for the sidewalk stuff. After a bunch of funny dialogue, one sings negro spirituals in a way to page the angels, while the other brown boy sure knows what a piano is for, and lets the music out of it—plays the piano in a way that makes it not only talk, but sing. This pair are the pung and chow of the black-face brigade.

It is hard to tell who is who in the Bekefi and Barsha act; so if the bouquets are dealt wrong, blame the program; but all are great steppers, including the above, Mooney and Churchill, Grace Robinson and Bee Wendell. Their classic numbers are the classiest, their jazz numbers the jazziest, we have seen in a long time.

Two musical sketches adorn the bill. William Sully and Genevieve Houghton, with the help of Sam Rose, play "Arms and the Girls," with pleasant plot interruption in the form of songs and dances. All have pleasant voices and talented toes, and Sully's military eccentric dance booms the bell.

Rubes come and go, by heck, but Val Harris remains one of the best of the ivy-frontispiece entertainers. Vera Griffin is a nice feeder. Some of the jokes are uncooked, with others reported discarded by Joe Miller; but the general impression is a mighty jolly one.

Jerome Mann is a fairly mature boy, whose impersonations of the inevitable Al Jolson and other face-cards please.

On the jump-off spot are Foster and Peggy in a charming act; and the fix-your-make-up-and-let's-hurry-to-the-cafeteria station is nicely filled by Kay and Lorene Sterling, with their skating dances, or dance skating, as you please.

Maquarre Enthuses Audience

The third Coliseum concert by the Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Andre Maquarre occurred Sunday without the usual rain or any mishap. Mr. Maquarre, hitherto known in Los Angeles as an artist of the flute, but well known in Boston as the conductor of the "Pop" concerts of that city's famous symphony orchestra, made an excellent impression as conductor.

His work is characterized by a skillfully directed musical tension and his knowledge of directorial routine made it possible for him to hold the ninety men of the orchestra well in hand and still have free reign for his very evident artistic temperament. He succeeded in communicating his own fire and enthusiasm to the audience.

The program consisted of Meyerbeer's popular Coronation March, the Andante from Beethoven's fifth Symphony, ballet music from Le Cid, a 'scherzo by Lalo, the Carmen suite, which made such a hit at a recent "Pop" at the Auditorium, the Strauss "Blue Danube" and Wagner's prelude to the Meistersinger.

STORY OF EASTER IN ANCIENT MUSIC

A unique program of Easter music will be given by the choir of the First Baptist Church of Los Angeles, Alexander Stewart, director, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The story of Gethsemane, the Crucifixion and the Resurrection will be told in the music, chiefly of composers of the fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, for solo voices, quartet and chorus, with accompaniment of a string quartet as well as the organ.

The Mu Phi Epsilon vocal trio of the college of music, U. S. C., will also assist the solo quartet of the church, Beulah Ellis, soprano; Mildred Ware, contralto; J. Malcolmson Huddy, tenor; Edward Adsit, bass, and David L. Wright, organist.

The hour of the service, which will be completed by 5:30 o'clock, will permit the attendance of other church choirs, several of whom will be special guests.

HOW TO AVOID A GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT

Over 53,000 people have joyously acclaimed the personal performance of Lionel Barrymore as "Milt Shanks" in the stage drama "The Copperhead" at the Playhouse the one outstanding achievement of the present theatrical season.

Here is a truly magnificent portrayal of a hero worthy to be in the annals of our American history—a story of his love and sacrifice—grippingly told by simple words and vividly etched in your memory by acting of strength, beauty and simplicity. Schallert in The Times said, "The best the American stage has to offer."

You owe it to yourself to see and enjoy this play—now in its final two weeks. And to avoid a great disappointment order your seats early. Final performances Saturday, April 10th—only four more matinees—(Wed. and Sat.) when tickets are 50c, $1.00, $1.50; seats now on sale at our courteous box office for all remaining performances—No telephone orders taken. Go to the Playhouse tonight—9th and Figueroa—Ample auto parking—Next Playhouse attraction "The Lullaby"—Knoblock's sensational and daring story of a woman that a man forgot—One year in New York and London—Opens Monday, April 12—Cast of thirty—Ten big, thrilling scenes—Presented by Louis O. FINE BILL AT HILLSTREET

Sarah Padden Scores Triumph in "The Clod;" Screen Version of Wright Opus Attractive Unit

A standing-room-only house greeted yesterday's opening bill at the Hillstreet. Evidently the vaudeville fans knew what was in store for them.

And, if the audiences had had its way, every act would have held up the show. As a matter of fact, every act did—sufficiently long to stage encores, while Sarah Padden, the star of the bill, bowed most graciously and smiled most charmingly in response to seven curtain calls.

All of which is sufficient indorsement for any vaudeville program, without going into further details.

Sarah Padden, Los Angeles' own, in reviving her greatest one-act success, "The Clod," seems to give a more subtle, more significant study of the phlegmatic country woman than ever before.

"The Clod" is a cross-section from the life of an ignorant woman living on a farm in the period of the Civil War. She has a semi-invalid husband. Apparently she is not interested in anything, least of all the war. She doesn't care which side wins, just so the soldiers camping near by get out of her sight and hearing.

When a wounded northern soldier, in asking for protection, says: "Wouldn't you do this for your country?"

"I ain't got no country," she replies. "We only got this farm."

How she is aroused by the taunts of a Confederate soldier in search of the northerner—her sudden reaction—and the final denouement are details not to be told here, lest they take away from the entertainment of others yet to see the performance.

Miss Padden's every movement, and the lifeless intonations of her expressive voice, contribute largely in putting over her remarkable psychological study, which is one of the finest delineations that has been seen on the Hillstreet stage in this or any other season.

Ward and Van De Michele, one with the harp and the other with the violin, in their off-key selections page a lot of applause, and the same may be said of Jean Boydell, who must be the originator of "pep," she has such an abundant supply of it. Her eccentric dancing is a wow.

Don Meany and his Midnite Frolic provides an entertaining program of jazz and classical numbers: Hubert Dyer and company, who are scheduled in the opening spot, set the pace for the other acts with their eccentricities and physical culture exhibition.

Ray Huling and his trained seal with the sense of humor are bright spots in the program. The seal sings, dances, does imitations and several unusual-for-a-seal things. The children in the audience went wild with delight over his amazing performance.

On the screen Bessie Love, Warner Baxter and Raymond Hatton appear in Victor Fleming's production of "A Son of His Father," by Harold Bell Wright. This is one of the most pretentious cinemas shown under the Hillstreet's new first-run policy.

SEITZ WILL DIRECT "THE LAST FRONTIER"

After a lapse of almost two years, "The Last Frontier," the western epic on which the late Thomas Ince had just started shooting when his untimely death occurred, is to be made.

George B. Seitz has been selected by Metropolitan to complete the production.

Seitz will start work in about ten days, or, in fact, as soon as he finishes cutting "The Ice Flood" at Universal.

"The Last Frontier" was planned by Ince as his master effort and is a picturization of the novel by Courtney Ryler Foote.

Seitz, who has been in Hollywood but a few months, has made a name for himself in connection with big outdoor spectacles. His "Vanishing American" has been hailed as a masterpiece.

He has specialized for years on productions necessitating the handling of hosts of extras and involving the solution of difficult engineering problems, so that he comes to his present task with the proper background for its successful accomplishment.

LEADERS ARE SIGNED FOR MATHIS FILM

The first featured actors to be signed for June Mathis's first production under her new contract with First National as associate producer are Anna Q. Nilsson and Charlie Murray.

Miss Nilsson will appear in the featured feminine role of "Sinners in Paradise," which is the new name of Clarence Buddington Kelland's "Nazareth," according to John McCormick, general manager of First National's West Coast units.

Murray will have a decidedly novel role in this production, diverging widely from his well-known farce characterizations.

The motor car, which was tried out in the Gobi Desert three years ago by Roy C. Anderson, the explorer, has almost replaced the camel as the "ship of the desert" in that region.

'DAFFY DILLS' IS TUNED TO FUN-MAKING

Will King's New Show at Broadway Palace Provides Plenty of Comedy

At the risk of a smart remark from the readers we announce that the best laugh on the program at the Boadway Palace this week is "Gimme a Little Kiss." Bessie Hill and Jimmie Ellard are clever comediana, and make the most of a small opportunity to be tuneful and humorous.

It is a good laugh from start to finish—this week's bill. Will King is a great entertainer. To be sure some of the laughs weren't intended.

"The Primrose Path," a picture featuring Clara Bow, is ludicrously humorous—and it is meant as a gripping drama of the heart. There are smuggled diamonds, a tempter luring the chorus girl, a weak but well-meaning young man who is accused of one murder and actually does commit another. His small brother takes the stand in a Boy Scout uniform which moves the jury to tears, the mother weeps, the guilty man confesses and the wedding bells ring out. If "The Primrose Path" had been announced as a satire on all the blood-throbbing melodramas — it couldn't be funnier.

Now for Will King. This week the drama he presents in musical comedy fashion is "Daffy Dills." It is just that. A doctor of an insane hospital hires two guards and the first laugh starts.

The last laugh comes with the final curtain as the whole gang go crazy. No one can ask more for an afternoon's entertainment surely. Thanks, Will.

Hermie King, the syncopating part of the fun, provides some novelty features on this week's bill. He trots the audience around town to the tune of music, ending up at Seventh and Broadway with some rather pointed humor. He reveals a policeman who bootlegs from the end of his club, ringing up each nickel he gets on a miniature register fastened in front. A hearty laugh is enjoyed at the expense of the local police.

Elinor Engaged for Miller's New Theater

Fred Miller announces the signing of contracts whereby Carli Elinor will become musical director of his orchestra at his new Carthay Circle Theater, which will be ready for the grand opening early in May.

CARLI ELINOR

Elinor is not only a notable orchestra leader, but he has a world-wide reputation in that most difficult task of arranging musical scores for feature productions, among them the scores for "The Gold Rush" and "The Big Parade."

Elinor will take up his new duties in the near future and will devote his time between them and the opening of the beautiful new playhouse, to securing his artists for the orchestra and arranging the musical score for the great opening attraction, the title of which will be announced within a few days.

Laid Foundation for Stage Work in Stock Roles

Mabel Julienne Scott has never played "bits," which means small parts in the parlance of the theater.

She started her theatrical career playing leads in a stock company in the Middle West where she received the foundation for her stage training. Then she went on the road with Fiske O'Hara, took a flier in vaudeville with Alan Brooks and created the role opposite George Sidney in "Welcome Stranger" during its New York presentation.

Just now Miss Scott has forsaken motion pictures for a time to play opposite Lionel Barrymore in "The Copperhead" at the Playhouse. She is going further in the spoken drama for Lillian Albertson, who is staging "The Lullaby," which will follow "The Copperhead" has engaged her for the starring role.

It is a tremendous part because it depicts the emotions that are the part of a girl who "takes the easiest way" during different ages of her life from a young girl of 17 to an aged woman, broken by the life she has led.

'Stella Dallas' Opens Friday at the Forum

Samuel Goldwyn's presentation of the Henry King production of "Stella Dallas" opens at the Forum on Friday evening with a single special premiere.

Rupert Hughes will be master of ceremonies at the opening and will introduce Henry King, the director; Frances Marion, scenarist, and Belle Bennett, Lois Moran, Alice Joyce, Ronald Colman, Jean Hersholt, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and others of the cast.

Following the special opening the great picture will be shown at the Forum continuous each day beginning at 2 o'clock.

GWEN LEE WITH NOVARRO

Gwen Lee, for the past several weeks busy playing one of the leading roles in "There You Are," has been assigned to an important part in "Bellamy the Magnificent," making the fourth pulchritudinous female member of the cast of this picture which stars Ramon Novarro.

The fruit-fly and heavy rains have caused great damage to grain crops in Lithuania during the past winter.

PREMONITION OF CRASH RELATED

Victim in Pasadena Stand Fell Testifies at Trial

Haunted by His Dread Days Before Rose Fete

Judge Reprimands Defense Attorneys from Bench

A premonition of disaster haunted him for days before the tragic street-stand crash at Pasadena New Year's Day, Charles M. Campbell, retired Pasadena merchant and prominent church worker, told the jury yesterday in the manslaughter trial of Paul Mahoney, builder, and C. B. Bucknall, inspector of the structure. Campbell was host to a party of friends which included Miss Marie Brehm, candidate of the Prohibition party for Vice-President at the last election and nationally known for her Women's Christian Temperance Union activities. Miss Brehm died as a result of injuries received when the grand stand collapsed.

Campbell testified that he and his wife had chosen Mahoney's stand because of its location. But when, two weeks before the day of the parade, he went to the lot to buy tickets, he hesitated. The stand not only appeared frail and flimsy, he testified, but he had a feeling of dread. So strong was this feeling that he changed his mind and did not make the purchase. Instead he went to a nearby telephone, he declared, and telephoned his wife, telling her he preferred to witness the parade from a stand two blocks down the street.

LAUGHED FEARS AWAY

But Mrs. Campbell laughed his fears away, urging him to get tickets as first planned. Campbell did so, but continued to worry over a possible tragedy, he told the jurors. He even went to consult the Pasadena city manager as to possible danger arising from the asserted weakness of the grand stand. At this point court adjourned.

Campbell told how after taking seats in the seventeenth row, his party viewed the first portion of the parade. Then suddenly the stand seemed to move forward and crashed down in its center, he said. In spite of the severe injuries he suffered, Campbell said he gave every possible aid to Miss Brehm, who, he could see, was in a serious condition.

Yesterday's session of the trial of Mahoney and Bucknall proved decidely stormy. From the moment court opened until its adjournment there were almost constant clashes between the attorneys in an effort to prevent certain testimony being given.

Attorneys for the defense finally were reprimanded by Judge Burnell. He declared they were not permitting witnesses to finish a sentence before interposing objections.

JUDGE IN RETORT

"Common courtesy demands that witnesses be not interrupted," Judge Burnell stated.

"I agree with you, Your Honor," replied Attorney Ong.

"You had better," retorted the court.

The grand stand slid forward during its collapse not less than ten feet, according to the testimony of Mark Sutton of Van Nuys. Sutton said he took particular note of the position of a hot-dog stand before and after the crash. He observed that when the bleachers fell they shoved the booth across the sidewalk onto the curbing.

Sutton was standing with his back to the stand when it sunk in, he said.

"I seemed to hear a mighty sigh. I turned and saw the whole stand sinking."

Over the protests of defense attorneys a miniature model of a grand stand, said to have been constructed to meet all requirements of Pasadena building ordinances, was introduced in court. This was the product of A. S. Llewellyn, an architect, who explained the model to the jury.

MODEL DESCRIBED

He declared that a stand, such as the model, would be a unit in itself, that it would stand without anchoring, and that it would not collapse under weight of any number of persons possible to put on it.

Llewellyn asserted that diagonal strain can be taken care of only by cross braces, and insisted that nails should be driven completely into a structure such as the grand stand in question.

In objections made to Llewellyn's testimony it was indicated that the defense for Bucknall will be that as a building inspector he was not expected to guarantee a structure against all defects, and that emphasis will be placed on the scope of his duties as an inspector.

Miss Eva J. Pruyn, wealthy resident of Albany, N. Y., and Ogden Johnson, a teacher of cabinet-making, described the crash of the stand.

Pasadena city officials are to be questioned at this morning's session, Dep. Dist.-Attys. Dennison and Murray announced.

FIX MY CAR

Did you ever analyze why you drive to your particular repair man when there is a garage right near you? It's the old question of CONFIDENCE. You have CONFIDENCE in his judgment. They have CONFIDENCE because we make a profit for them, because we look after their interest after they buy. Our clients have CONFIDENCE in us because they know that

"What did you arrest that stranger for this forenoon?" asked the able editor of the Petunia Plaindealer.

"He was going from house to house soliciting orders for enlarged crayon portraits," replied Constable Slackputter.

NEW WILSHIRE PLAN OFFERED

Ingraham Street Proposed as One-Way Boulevard

Municipal League Suggests Opening and Extension

Plan Calls for Condemning of Three Blocks

As an alternative plan to the proposed widening of Wilshire Boulevard, with an attendant extension from Grand avenue to Figueroa street and the construction of a bridge across Westlake Park to join the boulevard at Alvarado street and Parkview avenue, the Municipal League has proposed to the City Council that Ingraham street be opened and extended to Figueroa as a supplementary one-way boulevard.

The plan, sponsored by S. B. Robinson, was brought before the City Council yesterday with a supplemental map outlining the proposed boulevard system west from Figueroa.

Under the original plan pending before the City Council, the city would be forced to condemn valuable property on each side of Wilshire Boulevard to permit its widening from the present sixty feet to the proposed width of 100 feet.

The Robinson plan calls for condemnation of about three and one-half blocks of secondary buildings between Little street and Alvarado street to permit the opening of Ingraham street to Alvarado. The rest of the street is paved and an excellent boulevard, according to Anthony Pratt, secretary of the Municipal League, and with a little additional work at the Figueroa street end, could be opened through to obtain a first-class connection with Wilshire Boulevard.

Under the plan sponsored by the league, Wilshire Boulevard as it now stands, would be made a one-way boulevard and would join with the Ingraham street extension at Westlake Park. The plan then calls for the construction of an embankment across the lake, with two small bridges at either end to permit boating on each side of the lake.

As a supplemental argument in favor of the alternative plan, the league states that at some time the land lying between the two sections of Wilshire Boulevard could be taken over by the city and made into a park as a "panhandle" to Westlake Park. This plan is offered to increase the city's public park area and as an effective firebreak in case of a city-wide conflagration such as that experienced in San Francisco during the 1906 earthquake.

ASSAIL JURY IN SOLOMON BALM CASE

Attorneys Asking New Trial Charge Verdict Determined by Chance

That the jury resorted to the determination of chance in reaching a verdict against him was charged yesterday by Fred H. Solomon, dance-hall proprietor, who filed a motion in Judge Crail's court for a new trial of the suit brought against him by Miss Glena Syfert for asserted breach of promise. The jury in the case awarded Miss Syfert $40,000 damages after several hours of deliberation.

Solomon's motion for a retrial of the case will be argued in Judge Crail's court April 9. At the conclusion of the trial of Miss Syfert's suit, Solomon's attorneys announced they would appeal from the jury's verdict if a motion for a new trial were not granted.

The legal language of the motion did not reveal in what manner the jury was asserted to have resorted to chance in deciding to bring in a verdict against Solomon, but the statement that chance had been employed by the jury was made without qualification.

The motion also asked a new trial on the asserted grounds that the jury was guilty of misconduct; that new evidence had been discovered and that the amount of damages was excessive and appeared to have been given under the "influence of passion and prejudice." The motion was filed by Attorneys Anderson and Anderson and Williams and Silverton, counsel for Solomon.

Miss Syfert, formerly in the employ of the dance-hall proprietor, asserted she and Solomon became engaged in 1916, but that he finally refused to marry her. Solomon denied the charges.

Train Added to Espee Service to New Orleans

A new train between Los Angeles and New Orleans and several other changes in running time and train service were announced yesterday by the Southern Pacific. The Argonaut is the new train; it will leave daily at 4 p.m. and arrive at New Orleans at 7:35 a.m. the third day; returning, it will leave at 11 p.m. and arrive here at 10:25 a.m., beginning next Sunday.

The running time of the Sunset Limited between here and San Francisco is cut fifteen minutes in the new schedule, departing time remaining the same. A new San Francisco-Los Angeles train is added, leaving San Francisco at 8:30 p.m. and arriving here at 11:25 a.m., returning, will leave at 6:05 p.m. and arrive at 8:45 a.m. This train gives improved service to Santa Barbara.

A third transcontinental train through New Orleans is provided by extension of trains Nos. 7 and 8 between El Paso and Del Rio, Tex., to New Orleans; these trains connect at El Paso with the Californian, operating between Los Angeles and Chicago. The new schedule also cuts the time of trains Nos. 86 and 87, between here and Fresno, and fifty minutes is taken from the schedule of the Southern California Express from Portland, via Sacramento.

ARROWSMITH
by Sinclair Lewis

WHO'S WHO:
MARTIN ARROWSMITH, a young man of ideals who is studying medicine at the University of Winnemaka. In love with Madeline Fox, a co-ed, and a slave to Prof. Max Gottlieb, professor of bacteriology, whom Martin has endowed with the virtues of a god.
ANGUS DUER, a silent, sharp-faced, auburn-headed, rather handsome young student who never squandered an hour or a good impulse.
FATTY PFAFF, a distended human water bottle, butt for the practical jokes of his fellow-students.
REV. IRA HINKLEY, already a preacher but planning to be a medical missionary. A roaring bull of a man.
CLIFF CLAWSON, the class jester.
PROF. MAX GOTTLIEB, a scientist extraordinary, famed on two continents for his work in bacteriology; a mystery to his fellow members of the faculty.

At examination-time, Digamma Pi fraternity showed its value to urgent seekers after wisdom. Generations of Digams had collected test-papers and preserved them in the sacred Quiz Book; geniuses for detail had labored through the volume and marked with red pencil the problems most often set in the course of years.

The freshmen crouched in a ring about Ira Hinkley in the Digam living-room, while he read out the questions they were most likely to get. They writhed, clawed their hair, scratched their chins, bit their fingers, and beat their temples in the endeavor to give the right answer before Angus Duer should read it to them out of the textbook.

Fatty had failed in the mid-year anatomical, and he had to pass a special quiz before he could take the finals. There was a certain fondness for him in Digamma Pi; Fatty was soft, Fatty was superstitious, Fatty was an imbecile, yet they had for him the annoyed affection they might have had for a second-hand motor or a muddy dog. All of them worked on him; they tried to lift him and thrust him through the examination as through a trap-door. They panted and grunted and moaned at the labor, and Fatty panted and moaned with them.

The night before his special examination they kept him at it till 2, with wet towels, black coffee, prayer, and profanity. They repeated lists—lists—lists to him; they shook their fists in his mournful red round face and howled, "Damn you, will you remember that the bicuspid valve is the SAME as the mitral valve and NOT any other one?" They ran about the room, holding up their hands and wailing, "Won't he never remember nothing about nothing?" and charged back to purr with fictive calm, "Now no use getting fussed, Fatty. Take it easy. Just listen to this, quietly, will yuh, and try," coaxingly, "do try to remember one thing, anway!"

They led him carefully to bed. He was so allied with facts that the slightest jostling would have spilled them.

When he awoke at seven, with red eyes and trembling lips, he had forgotten everything he had learned.

"There's nothing for it," said the president of Digamma Pi. "He's got to have a crib, and take his chance on getting caught with it. I thought so. I made one out for him yesterday. It's a lulu. It'll cover enough of the questions so he'll get through."

Even the Reverend Ira Hinkley, since he had witnessed the horrors of the midnight before, went his ways ignoring the crime. It was Fatty himself who protested: "Gee, I don't like to cheat. I don't think a fellow that can't get through an examination had hardly ought to be allowed to practice medicine. That's what my dad said."

They poured more coffee into him and (on the advice of Cliff Clawson, who wasn't exactly sure what the effect might be, but who was willing to learn) they fed him a potassium bromide tablet. The president of Digamma, seizing Fatty with some firmness, growled, "I'm going to stick this crib in your pocket—look, here in your breast pocket, behind your handkerchief."

"I won't use it. I don't care if I fail," whimpered Fatty.

"That's all right, but you keep it there. Maybe you can absorb a little information from it through your lungs, for God knows—" The president clenched his hair. His voice rose and in it was all the tragedy of night watches and black draughts and hopeless retreats. "—God knows you can't take it in through your head!"

They dusted Fatty, they stood him right side up, and pushed him through the door, on his way to Anatomy Building. They watched him go: a balloon on legs, a sausage in corduroy trousers.

"Is it possible he's going to be honest?" marveled Cliff Clawson.

"Well, if he is, we better go up and begin packing his trunk. And this ole frat'll never have another goat like Fatty," grieved the president.

They saw Fatty stop, remove his handkerchief, mournfully blow his nose—and discover a long thin slip of paper. They saw him frown at it, tap it on his knuckles, begin to read it, stuff it back into his pocket, and go on with a more resolute step.

They danced hand in hand about the living-room of the fraternity, piously assuring one another, "He'll use it—it's all right—he'll get through or get hanged!"

He got through.

* * *

Digamma Pi was more annoyed by Martin's restless doubtings than by Fatty's idiocy, Cliff Clawson's raucousness, Angus Duer's rasping, or the Reverend Ira Hinkley's nagging.

During the strain of study for examinations Martin was peculiarly vexing in regard to "laying in the best quality medical terms like the best quality sterilizers—not for use but to impress your patients." As one, the Digams suggested, "Say, if you don't like the way we study medicine, we'll be tickled to death to take up a collection and send you back to Elk Mills, where you won't be disturbed by all us low-brows and commercialists. Look here! We don't tell you how you ought to work. Where do you get the idea you got to tell us? Oh, turn it off, will you!"

Angus Duer observed, with sour sweetness, "We'll admit we're simply carpenters, and you're a great investigator. But there's several things you might turn up when you finish science. What do you know about architecture? How's your French verbs? How many big novels have you ever read? Who's the Premier of Austro-Hungary?"

Martin struggled, "I don't pretend to know anything—except I do know what a man like Max Gottlieb means. He's got the right method, and all these other hams of profs, they're simply witch doctors. You think Gottlieb's isn't religious, Hinkley. Why, his just being in a lab is a prayer. Don't you idiots realize what it means to have a man like that here, making new concepts of life? Don't you—"

Cliff Clawson, with a chasm of yawning, speculated, "Praying in the lab! I'll bet I get the pants took off me, when I take bacteriology, if Pa Gottlieb catches me praying during experiment hours!"

"Damn it, listen!" Martin wailed. "I tell you, you fellows are the kind that keep medicine nothing but guess-work diagnosis, and here you have a man—"

So they argued for hours, after their sweaty fact-grinding.

When the others had gone to bed, when the room was a muck-heap of flung clothing and weary young men snoring in iron bunks, Martin sat at the splintery long pine study-table, worrying. Angus Duer glided in, demanding, "Look here, old son. We're all sick of your crabbing. If you think medicine is rot, the way we study it, and if you're so confoundedly honest, why don't you get out?"

He left Martin to agonize, "He's right. I've got to shut up or get out. Do I really mean it? What do I want? What am I going to do?"

* * *

Angus Duer's studiousness and his reverence for correct manners were alike offended by Cliff's bawdy singing, Cliff's howling conversation, Cliff's fondness for dropping things in people's soup, and Cliff's melancholy inability to keep his hands washed. For all his appearance of nerveless steadiness, during the tension of examination-time Duer was as nervous as Martin, and one evening at supper, when Cliff was bellowing, Duer snapped, "Will you kindly not make so much racket?"

"I'll make all the damn' racket I damn' please!" Cliff asserted, and a feud was on.

Cliff was so noisy thereafter that he almost became tired of his own noise. He was noisy in the living-room, he was noisy in the bath, and with some sacrifice he lay awake pretending to snore. If Duer was quiet and book-wrapped, he was not in the least timid; he faced Cliff with the eye of a magistrate, and cowed him. Pettily Cliff complained to Martin, "Darn him, he acts like I was a worm. Either he or me has got to get out of Digam, that's a cinch, and it won't be me!"

He was ferocious and very noisy about it, and it was he who got out. He said that the Digams were a "bunch of bum sports; don't even have a decent game of poker," but he was fleeing from the hard eyes of Angus Duer. And Martin resigned from the fraternity with him, planned to room with him the coming autumn.

Cliff's blustering rubbed Martin as it did Duer. Cliff had no reticences; when he was not telling slimy stories he was demanding, "How much chuh pay for those shoes—must think you're a Vanderbilt!" or "D'I see you walking with that Madeline Fox femme—what chuh tryin' to do?" But Martin was alienated from the civilized, industrious, nice young men of Digamma Pi, in whose faces he could already see prescriptions, glossy white sterilizers, smart enclosed motors, and glass office-signs in the best gilt lettering. He preferred a barbarian loneliness, for next year he would be working with Max Gottlieb, and he could not be bothered.

The next installment of this most absorbing novel—written by the author of "Main Street" and "Babbitt"—will appear in tomorrow's Times. Watch for it.

HESKETH ASSAILANT SOUGHT

Detective Lieutenants Jarvis and Dryden yesterday were working on several leads which may reveal the identity of the three men wanted in connection with the shooting of Walter Hesketh, 28 years of age, who was shot through the abdomen Sunday morning as he was walking along Sixth street near Beaudry avenue.

Hesketh, alias Eddie Egan, who has been arrested several times for suspicion of robbery, is believed by police to be the victim of a bootleggers' war or shot by a member of his own gang. Following a major operation at the Receiving Hospital Hesketh was booked on suspicion of burglary and removed to the prison ward at the General Hospital. His condition was reported to be unchanged yesterday.

Lee Moore, or Granger, 31 years of age, of 2052 West Twenty-fourth street, who brought Hesbeth to the Receiving Hospital is being held by police as a material witness. Detectives state they found a blackjack on Moore and will question him further regarding the case.

Moore told Detective Lieutenants Jarvis and Dryden that he found Hesketh lying on the sidewalk at Sixth street and Beaudry avenue, as he was on his way to catch an early train to San Diego. Moore denies all knowledge of the shooting which police say occurred about 4 a.m. Sunday.

HI, SKINNY, CIRCUS IN TOWN!

Youth, bubbling with enthusiasm had its day of days yesterday—for it was circus day. Excitement vied with interest as throngs of Los Angeles boys, and not a few of their elders, congregated on the old baseball lot at Washington and Hill streets, where the sprawling canvas of the big top attracted crowds to the opening of the Al G. Barnes circus, playing a seven-day engagement in the city with two shows a day.

Ferocious jungle beasts quick to do the bidding of their master, trained animals, clowning acrobats and aerial artists held the attention of a large audience both afternoon and evening at the four-ring show.

With two special trains of fifty-two cars, 1100 people and 2500 animals, the Barnes circus, after wintering at its quarters in Washington Boulevard, opened here for its official premiere after a short tour through the southern territory on a breaking-in trip. This year's aggregation of attractions is bigger and better than ever before, according to circus officials.

SENTIMENT—

Much has been written about sentiment in business. Many are of the opinion that "Business is business" and sentiment should be excluded.

If a close friendship of officer to patron in the Union Bank & Trust Co. may be called sentiment, then there certainly is sentiment in the bank's business.

The policy of unit-banking brings every officer of the bank into closer contact with every customer.

FOR Sour Stomach
PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, besides leaving the stomach free from gases. Bottles of it relieve acid fermentation in the bowels and gently remove the undigested waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips" and avoid the five cent and fifty cent substitutes. Any drug store.—[Advertisement.]
